Narcotics Violator Stabbed Near Heart At Prison

A San Quentin inmate was stabbed near the heart and seriously wounded by a fellow inmate this morning as the two were leaving the prison's north dining room after breakfast.

The victim, Arthur Charles Martinez, 28, a narcotics violator from Ventura County, was "doing well" following surgery at the prison hospital to stop internal bleeding, said J. R. O'Brien, classification and parole representative.

Robert William Juarez, 20, identified as the assailant, was placed in isolation following interrogation.

No attempt had yet been made to question Martinez, O'Brien said.

The victim was stabbed with a thin, sharp knife apparently fashioned from a spatula. O'Brien said that Juarez, who had been sent to San Quentin in June, 1961, for assault with a deadly weapon upon a fellow inmate at the Deuel Vocational Institution, had been working in the kitchen.

The stabbing occurred just outside the north entrance of the dining room at 7:40 a.m. Correctional officer R. E. Singletary saw the fight, intervened and took the knife away from Juarez. He was assisted by Lt. N. R. Snellgrove.

O'Brien said that Martinez first came to San Quentin April 27, 1956. He was paroled three years later, returned in October, 1959, for parole violation; was paroled again in May, 1961, and returned in September of the same year for a new term of six months to five years for auto theft.

Brown's Hall In Mill Valley Is Total Loss After Blaze

Meeting Place For Many Organizations

Fire streaked through Brown's Hall in Mill Valley at 1:58 a.m. today leaving it a "total loss."

The hall, built in 1928, was a meeting place of many Southern Marin organizations. It was insured for $14,500 but Fire Chief Leslie Armager said it would cost $55,000 to rebuild and it cannot be rebuilt from the remains.

The fire, Armager said, started in a small storeroom on the ground floor near the building's entrance. It was impossible to determine the cause, he added, but said he found cans containing wax, varnish and paint in the storeroom.

Fire burned up through the walls and straight back along the roof almost to the stage.

WORK PLANNED

"Ironically," said Christopher Bratt, president of the Homestead Valley Improvement Club which owns the building, "we have four sets of plans here to remodel and put an addition to the hall." The club took out a building permit last week to make $7,000 in alterations.

"Now we're out of business," he said.

Lost in the fire were $1,000 worth of costumes, stage flats and props used in the Homestead Players Show, "This Must Be The Place."

Card tables used in the club's candlelight concerts and stored in a small upstairs meeting room over the entrance were destroyed.

RIFLES SAVED

Saved were $500 worth of rifles owned by Muir Woods Post 6741, Veterans of Foreign Wars. Henry Gareis, quartermaster, said the World War I 303 Enfields were kept in a case upstairs. The post, which meets in the building, also had some flags and scrapbooks, believed to be saved.

Fire was discovered by Police Officer Ken Homen on patrol who radioed for help.

Armager said the roof is a complete loss. Thirteen firemen fought the blaze, controlling it in one hour.

Inspecting damages was Mrs. Jo Schlessinger, former club president. "We don't have troubles enough," she said.

She said the hall was the club's regular meeting place. Also meeting there, she said, was Andy Anderson's Dog Training School, tumbling and dancing classes and square dance groups. It is the regular meeting place of the Carpenters Union Local 1710. A carpenter's spokesman said today their charter may have been burned, but it has not been determined.

The Homestead Players had scheduled "Tea and Sympathy"

Home Fire Damage Put At $10,000

Grease igniting in a frying pan was believed to be the cause of a $10,000 fire which bady damaged the attic and shake roof of a three-bedroom Enchanted Knolls home in Mill Valley yesterday.

Mrs. Eduardo Castaneda, at her home at 151 Kipling Drive, discovered the fire at about 3:10 p.m. and ran to her neighbor, Mrs. Thomas L. Brown, for help. Shortly afterward she fainted and was taken to her doctor where she was treated for shock.

Her husband, a retired captain of the Colombia Navy, was away at the time. The Castanedas' three children, Alfredo 9, and Dina, 16, were in Mill Valley schools and Eduardo, 17, who was with his aunt, Maria Martinez, was returning from a school in San Francisco.

Maria Martinez, Mrs. Castaneda's sister, arrived home with young Eduardo shortly after the fire started. Miss Martinez, is from Colombia and is staying with the Castanedas while attending Heald's College in San Francisco.

Mrs. Brown told reporters that Mrs. Castaneda had run

THREE INJURED AS CAR HITS TREE AT 75 MPH

A car, which Ross police estimated was going about 75 miles an hour, smashed head-on into a big elm tree on Bolinas avenue in Ross at 4:55 p.m. yesterday, critically injuring one youth and seriously injuring two others. (See photo, page 9)

The car left 228 feet of skid marks on Bolinas Avenue, 40 feet beyond the intersection of Oak Avenue from which it came. The car then straddled curbing on Bolinas for 65 feet before sideswiping one tree and smashing into the second tree.

In critical condition at Marin General Hospital was John Walter Karp, 19, of 6 H Street, San Rafael. His injuries include a possible concussion, multiple bruises, head injuries and a broken left leg.

A hospital spokesman said Karp was not responding to treatment today.

In fair condition was William Jurvig, 17, of 60 Scenic Avenue, San Rafael, with a broken arm and leg, face cuts and head injuries and Marcia Gerson, 15, of 73 Ruthford Avenue, San Anselmo, with a broken left leg.

Ross Police Chief Joseph J. Regoni said the car was going "70 to 75 miles an hour" after hitting the straightaway after the intersection. "They lost control probably because of excessive speed," Regoni said.

The three occupants of the car were ejected from the force of the impact. Karp was found six feet away on the driver's side of the car. Miss Gerson went through the windshield and Jurvig was thrown out the passenger side of the car, according to Regoni.

Although the youths had not been interviewed yet because of the seriousness of their injuries, Regoni said Karp "was probably driving." The car was registered to Karp.

Clausen Says No Rocket Tests In Bay

There will be no rocket testing on San Francisco Bay in connection with the navy's proposed use of Tiburon Naval Net Depot for rocket research, Rep. Donald Clausen (R-Crescent City) said today.

Clausen said he has been told by the Navy's office of legislative affairs that new rocket vehicles developed at Tiburon will be towed by barge to the Pacific Ocean Missile Range and tested there. Clausen said he has asked for further details from Navy Secy. Fred Korth about the conversion of the net depot.

"I want to be absoletely sure that the proposed new use of the Tiburon Naval Depot as a research and development center for new rocket propelled vehicles will involve no operations that would be obnoxious or dangerous," said Clausen.

He said that Aerojet-General Corp. had asked the state to determine whether tests in the bay might endanger public health or wildlife "only on the contingency that such tests might be permitted." But he said the Navy has assured him no such tests are planned, and he has asked for inclusion of a prohibition against tests in any contract by the Navy.

Nursing Home Aid Hike 'Not Enough'

Marin County's share of the state-federal Medical Assistance to the Aged program is still headed for the rocks despite Sacramento announcement of small supplemental payments, it was agreed here today.

"Too small to help in Marin" was the universal summary of both officials and nursing home proprietors as they sized up a new schedule allowing up to an extra $48 per month per bed. They found that added to a basic $219 rate the total was only $267 as compared with the average $350 said to be required here.

The supplemental allowances announced by Hale Champion, state director of finance, would be added to maximum applying from May 1 for both basic ($219) and extensive ($272) care and even the latter would then total only $320, $30 under the Marin average for merely basic care.

Welfare Director Betty L. Presley was unable to see how the extra $48 could alter nursing homes' declared inability to pay expenses under the situation from May 1. Presently they are allowed to collect existing rates for 109 Marin patients in homes Jan. 1. But virtually all are trying to unload welfare patients, while refusing to take new ones who can't come under the old rates.

Miss Presley said she and the supervisors will discuss the crisis with a representative of Champion's office at 2 p.m. Monday in a special session of Marin supervisors.

She will go to Sacramento next Thursday to attend another meeting called by the state in view of complaints from many parts of California, but particularly the Bay area where costs rule high. A few points in Southern California especially are able to operate their MAA programs under the new fees.

"The best you can call this is a step in the right direction, but much too short a step," said James E. Moore, administrator of the 49-bed Center Nursing Hospital in San Rafael.

Moore expressed himself as "burned up" over the state's changing and in his eyes unrealistic policies toward the nursing homes.

William Slocum, president of the Marin County Nursing Homes Assn. and himself proprietor of the Larkspur Convalescent Hospital, said that "this county may wind up paying as much as $1,000 per

Mail 3 To 1 Against Braden Reappointment

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The Senate rules committee's mail is running almost 3 to 1 against confirmation of Thomas W. Braden, Chairman Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno) said today.

Burns, Senate majority leader, said the committee has received 1,370 letters against and 475 for Braden's reappointment to the State Board of Education. (See also story, page 14.)

He said the committee has begun getting petitions from the San Diego area backing Braden, but he added that letters and petitions would have little bearing on the committee's decision.

Minority Leader John F. McCarthy (R-San Rafael), appearing with Burns and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh at their weekly news conference, agreed with Burns that the decision should not be a partisan one.

"I hope there's no position of solid Democrats or solid Republicans," McCarthy said.

In a separate development, Braden told an interviewer he is annoyed at the controversy over his reappointment. He said it has diverted attention from the real problems facing California education.

"I have worked my head off on this job, simply as a public service, at no pay," the Oceanside newspaper publisher and president of the Board of Education said.

"If they don't think I have done a good job they ought to can me . . . We must build as many classrooms in the next eight years as we did in the last 80. I think we should end all this wrangling and get on with the job."

The rules committee will consider Gov. Edmund G. Brown's reappointment of Braden next Thursday.

More Rain Is Forecast For Tonight

A storm today dumped small amounts of rain on Marin County but more was forecast for tonight.

The occasional rain, according to the weather bureau, should halt by late tonight. Cloudy skies were predicted for tomorrow.

The largest amount of rain reported in the county shortly before noon was recorded in Marinwood where .30 of an inch fell.

Other readings were: Larkspur, Chevy Chase districtm, .28; Point Reyes Station, .23; Woodacre, .22; Novato, .20; San Rafael, .15; San Anselmo, .10, and Sausalito, .05.

Railway Clerks Act On Offer

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Brotherhood of Railway Clerks officers in San Francisco today sent Grand President George M. Harrison their recommendation concerning President John F. Kennedy's proposal for binding arbitration in the dispute with Southern Pacific Railroad.

But the union refued to disclose whether it favored arbitration, which would eliminate the threat of a strike.

The union said that since Kennedy's proposal was addressed to Harrison, it would not disclose or comment on its recommendation until Kennedy has released it.

U.S. DENIES WARSHIPS FIRED ON RED TRAWLER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department has denied a Soviet charge that three American warships fired on a Soviet trawler last Friday.

Six Navy destroyers fired gunnery exercises in the area—70 miles east of Norfolk, Va.—but the nearest surface ship was 12 miles away, five miles beyond the destroyers' maximum antiaircraft range, said a statement issued last night by the State Department.

The surface ship was not identified and a spokesman said he did not know if it was a Soviet vessel.

In its protest the Soviet Union said two cruisers and a destroyer fired dummy — non-explosive—shells near a Soviet ship. This, said Moscow, was "an act of sheer wantonness which could have grave consequences."

Lincoln White, State Department press officer, said he did not know whether the anti-aircraft shells fired by the destroyers were dummies or live ammunition. A formal reply to Moscow's protest along the lines of last night's statement will be made, he said.

The statement described the location as "an established and recognized U.S. Navy operations area."

"On the day in question U.S. naval vessels, none of which were cruisers, were in the area," it said. "Six U.S. Navy destroyers fired gunnery exercises.

"The ship nearest the location of the alleged incident fired an anti-aircraft practice at a towed sleeve target.

"At the time of the firing this ship was 10 miles southwest from the position which the Soviet Union reports was the location of the incident. The ship fired in an easterly and westerly direction with ammunition which has a seven-mile maximum range.

"No surface vessel was within 12 miles of the firing ship before and during the firing. The clearance of the range was confirmed by the target towing aircraft. The weather conditions were clear.

"At no time did this vessel or any other U.S. naval vessel in the general area fire when any surface vessel or aircraft could be in danger."

Russ Crowd Stages Mass Protest At Iraqi Embassy

MOSCOW (UPI) — A chanting, placard-waving crowd of Russians staged a mass protest demonstration in front of the Iraqi embassy here today shouting "shame to the killers" of communists in Iraq.

As the demonstrations began, some 200 Russians who identified themselves as students lined up in front of the grey brick building to wave their signs, shout and shake their fists.

An estimated 40 Soviet policemen in black knee-length coats, fur hats and leather boots formed a cordon to keep the demonstrators about 20 feet from the embassy on the edge of the sidewalk.

The demonstrators, bundled against freezing temperatures, carried placards with such slogans as "the criminals must answer."

Many Communists were reported killed in the Iraqi revolution last month, or executed later by the new regime. The revolutionary government said the Iraqi Reds supported the ousted regime.

The demonstration in front of the Iraqi Embassy was a sequel to similar protest meetings reportedly held in cities throughout the Soviet Union in factories and on farms yesterday.

Periodically various demonstrators would whistle, gesture and shout "shame" or "glory to the Communist Party of Iraq."

Several policemen carried portable loudspeakers.

There was no attempt in the early stages of the demonstration to enter the embassy building or to damage it.

Although some demonstrators told western newsmen that they had "spontaneously" decided to protest, the extra police on hand indicated there had been considerable advance official preparation.

One student said:

"We decided spontaneously to organize a protest because we had heard about the crimes of the Iraqi government. If you write about this, tell the outside world that all Moscow will be here."

Revolutionary Regime Moves Against Reds

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria's new revolutionary regime is reported stepping up its Communist manhunt throughout the nation. Troops and military police are said to have rounded up nearly 100 Reds.

Informed sources said at least two members of the central committee of the Syrian Communist party have been arrested along with Communist writers and other party activists.

Mustafa Amin, acting secretary-general of the central committee, was arrested soon after Friday's coup by pro-Nasser army officers.

Also sought are Socialist party followers of the former U.A.R. vice president from Syria, Akram Hourani. Police arrested two of his aides, former Finance Minister Khalil Kallas and former Agrarian Minister Mustafa Hamdoun.

Hourani was rumored to be either under house arrest at Hama, in central Syria, or hospitalized a Yabroud, 60 miles from Damascus, after being mauled by a mob.

The revolutionary council has strengthened heavily armed military guards at key points in Damascus and coupled an appeal for public cooperation with a promise to crush "any attempt to create dissension." It charged that "Communists and separatists" are trying to undermine Syria's new quest for Arab unity.

Damascus was quiet. Students whose pro-Nasser demonstrations were tolerated during the first days of the new government chanted their Arab union slogans indoors.

Use Of Inferior Equipment At State Colleges Is Denied

SACRAMENTO (AP) -- The State Division of Architecture has been accused of saving money by allowing installation of inferior equipment at three state colleges.

The charges—denied by the division—were made by representatives of the California woodworking industry yesterday at a hearing called by Assemblyman Carlos Bee (D-Hayward).

Industry spokesmen said the division accepted sub-standard laboratory tables and cabinets manufactured in Southern states, at Long Beach, Humboldt and Alameda County state colleges.

Bee called the hearing in response to complaints that tables which do not meet state specifications are now being installed on the Hayward campus of Alameda state.

Albert Weikert, president of an Oakland woodworking firm and a representative of the California Cabinet and Fixture Manufacturers Guild, said he had found that the state was permitting below-standard cabinets to be installed at the Hayward school.

Hubert Hunter of the State Division of Architecture admitted the low quality goods were accepted at Long Beach but denied the division had anything to do with the Humboldt State job.

"What happened at Long Beach, I would not like to see happen at Hayward," Bee said.

"As a member of the legislature, I do not want to see inferior equipment in any area. I want it to be brought up to standard and, if necessary, rebid."

Bee asked the Finance Department and the state college trustees to investigate the charges.

Hunter said the division was willing to have the finishes on the tables—criticized by the industry—inspected by a private laboratory. He said he welcomed the investigation proposed by Bee.

WIRE NEWS BRIEFS From Everywhere

Terrorists Busy In Venezuela

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Terrorists were busy again in Venezuela last night. Communists and Castroites were blamed.

One band blew up transformers carrying electricity to five communities on the coast southwest of Caracas.

Another group bombed a cooking oil factory in Valencia, knocking out 40 per cent of the machinery. No one was injured.

Fidel Cracks Down On Crime

HAVANA (AP)—Burglars who enter homes or use minors as accomplices will be liable to the death penalty, Prime Minister Fidel Castro announced last night.

In a speech televised from the steps of Havana University, he also announced that bail would no longer be allowed in felony and misdemeanor cases.

JFK Plans Costa Rica Speeches

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy will give three public speeches during his three-day visit to Costa Rica next week.

They are included in a busy schedule of conferences and ceremonies outlined yesterday by the White House.

The White House said the President intends to spend this week-end in Palm Beach, flying to Costa Rica from there Monday morning.

Coal Miners Cool To de Gaulle

PARIS (AP)—France's 167,000 striking coal miners took a cool attitude today toward a conciliatory move from President Charles de Gaulle's government.

The cabinet, after a long discussion of the strike situation, announced it was starting a series of studies of the mine and fuel problem. A Socialist Union spokesman commented that if such a study had been made three months ago, the experts would have approved the miners' demands.

Pope Asks Sharing Of Resources

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope John XXIII appealed today to all men of good will to work for better use and better sharing of the world's resources.

He spoke at a private audience for 30 world leaders in science and sociology who are in Rome to draft an appeal for a united fight against hunger.

"May this world week for the fight against hunger —and the approaching world food congress in Washington—be a call and a stimulant to all men of good will," the Pope said.

Guild Gets Newspaper Offer

NEW YORK (AP)—The head of the AFL-CIO American Newspaper Guild said today that publishers had offered a money package and other consideration to remove a major roadblock to resumption of publication by eight major New York newspapers.

Thomas J. Murphy, executive vice president of the Guild, said the publishers' offer will be voted on tomorrow by Guild officials to determine whether to recommend it to the membership.

Line At The Zoo

CHESTER, England (AP) — A telephone pole in Chester Zoo is to be raised 4 feet because a giraffe named George kept getting on the line.

For months the area had been plagued by a rash of wrong numbers. Yesterday George, who has an altitude of 18 feet, was spotted grabbing the telephone wires with his tongue and playfully letting them twang back.

The wires tangled up. Telephones starting ringing all over the place. They stopped when the wires unwound.

Order Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Federal Communications Commission has indefinitely postponed its order authorizing rate increases for the private use of leased communications lines.

The increases had been authorized Jan. 29 after a seven-year study. And the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. and Western Union were ordered to arrange to put the higher rates into effect May 1.

However, the FCC said yesterday the order would be stayed while it considers petitions for reconsideration.

Acid Attack

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A delicatessen owner may lose his sight as a result of an unexplained acid attack yesterday, the second aimed at him in less than a week.

Doctors said Harry Goldman, 44, had lost the sight of one eye and may lose the sight of the other.

The attacker walked into Goldman's store and without a word threw the contents of a lye bottle in his face.

Actress To Wed

Pierose, 40, and Miss Dru, 41, took out a marriage license Wednesday.

She was previously married to singer Dick Haymes and actor John Ireland. She has three children by her marriage to Haymes. Pierose has been married once.

House Passes Record Defense Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The record 15.8-billion-dollar defense authorization bill is safely through the House but Senate action appears weeks away.

The House passed the bill to buy new missiles, aircraft and warships by a 374-33 vote yesterday. It authorizes spending more money than some Republicans and Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara think is necessary.

The Senate Armed Services committee has completed hearings on the bill. But transcripts of those hearings are still being reviewed in the Pentagon, and no committee action to pass the bill to the floor is expected for at least a couple of weeks.

It appeared likely that the Senate would follow the House in adding funds for the RS-70 warplane to the administration's bill.

The House included 497.7-million dollars for more development of the RS-70 and two additional nuclear attack submarines which the administration felt were unnecessary.

The Air Force would get 7.4-billion dollars of the bill, the Navy and Marines 6.6-billion dollars and the Army 1.7-billion dollars. It would provide 3,000 aircraft, about 60,000 missiles and 43 warships.

The Bureau of the Census was established as a permanent agency in 1902.

Jr. 'Katz' Set For St. Pat's

The Junior "Katz" will play for the Senior "Katz" on St. Patrick's Day in Mill Valley.

It is an occasion to honor the reunion of the Mill Valley American Legion Post's Katzenjammer Band which paraded 25 years ago at national and state conventions in the Bay Area and Long Beach.

Twenty-four of the original 40-man band members have been "found," 14 are dead and two were unable to be located. Since the old Katzenjammers are with but one uniform and but one drum, it was decided that "the Sauer Kraut Six Minus One" from Tamalpais High School would serenade at the celebration.

Social hour will begin at 6 p.m. at the Legion hall, Sunday, to be followed by a corned beef and cabbage dinner, post commander F. W. Mosher Jr. said.

Those original Katzenjammers who have been located and who are invited to attend are: George Walker, George V. Griffitts, Donald L. Burbeck, Martin Jukich, Richard Shirley, Jim Phelps, Thomas Bennett, Frank Schroeder, Joe Gunn, Ed Kraft and Walter Meyer, all of Mill Valley; Robert Russell, Corte Madera; Charles McCrum, Novato; Porter M. Griffith, Norman G. Boyd, Sausalito; Fran Seitz, Greenbrae; James M. Brogan, San Rafael; Philip Dietz, David Arnst, Calistoga; Max Weeks, Hans C. Larson, Sonoma; Zan Stark, Boyes Springs; Roland McGeein, Tracy and Henry Wiepke, Seattle.

The students who will play are Tim Broome, Cliff Reynolds, Ted Schneider and Randy Walker, of Mill Valley and Tom Donaldson, Sausalito. They were organized by Robert Greenwood, school music director.

Three Marin Students Are Granted Fellowships From Ford Foundation

Three Marin students have received fellowships for 1963-64 from the Woodrow Wilson Fellowship Foundation, sponsored by the Ford Foundation to encourage scholars to consider carers in college teaching.

They are Michael Dale Rossman of 2 Meadow Way, Fairfax, a senior majoring in mathematics; Cassius Clay Johnson of 1946 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, a senior majoring in English, and Christopher McQueen Black of 138 Woodland Avenue, San Anselmo, a senior majoring in classics.

Rosman and Johnson are students at the University of California at Berkeley, while Black is enrolled at the Riverside campus.

Each fellowship covers tuitio and fees for the first year of graduate study at a school of the student's choice, plus a stipend of $1,500 and dependency allowances. Funds come from grants totaling 52 million dollars from the Ford Foundation.

'Hyde Park' Revived At Marin College

College of Marin's own Hyde Park was revived yesterday before about 100 students on the lawn in front of the library.

The event, called the speaker's hour, started last October and discontinued before fall semester's final examinations, impromptu talks for and against the annual $10 student body card.

Ken Taylor of Hamilton Air Force Base, speaking against the cards, said state law prohibits making them mandatory but owning them tends to make one acceptable to his fellow students.

He favored financing student cultural and recreational events from state funds, contending buying the cards is a hardship on students.

James Willwerth of Novato disagreed, asserting student events should be paid for by the students.

Chris Casson of Tiburon also defended the cards, pointing out student body funds already are used to support a student newspaper and trips by rooters to other colleges.

Jerry Smith of San Quentin Village opposed the cards, urging more student income by increasing the number of vending machines in the student cafeteria. He said students received $1,600 from vending machines last semester.

Smith also urged getting money from bookstore profits, asserting, "We should be getting $10,000 to $15,000 a year in profits from the bookstore within three years."

Jeremy Monroe of Larkspur opposed the cards on the grounds that they are "contrary to the concept of a public school system." He said it is wrong for certain privileges to be denied students who do not own cards.

Fred Winn of Ross spoke for the cards, comparing them to taxes and declaring, "if communities want things they have to pay for them—the same with student activities."

The noontime event was started last Oct. 17 by Rick Gherman, San Francisco business major, who witnessed talks made in London's Hyde Parks.

Modern Foods Called Healthful

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Modern "convenience" foods are just as healthful as those dishes that grandma used to make, an Oklahoma State University dietitian says.

Miss Mary Currier tested such modern processed foods as dried meats and milk and dehydrated soup. She found that her test animals, white rats, thrived on the food.

"This should make homemakers feel more secure about using time and work saving prepared foods," she said.

Foreign Films Set At College

The Art Club of College of Marin will present two prize-winning foreign films, "Rasho-Mon" and "The Red Balloon" March 23 for the third "Profile of the Film" showing at the college's Olney Hall.

"Rasho-Mon," made in Japan in 1951, deals with four different versions of a crime as told by those involved in it. "The Red Balloon" is a fantasy of a boy's adventures in following a balloon.

The films will be shown at 8 p.m.

Modified Release Time For Religion Instruction

Dixie School District trustees last night authorized a modified released time program for students from St. Isabella's Roman Catholic parish in Terra Linda.

At a discussion in January, the district board said it would not allow released time for religious instruction to continue during the next school year under present conditions but promised to consider alternate proposals.

Under the program approved last night, Catholic children may have time out for church classes during a shortened period in the 1963-64 school year. During the months between October and May, students of all grades would be released on the same day. In previous years, students were released from classes on different days.

Although not a part of the proposal, the church indicated it would be able to handle all classes in religious instruction on one day during the 1964-65 school year without interference with school classes.

The district has announced its intention eventually to do away with any released time whatsoever.

Trustees accepted for consideration a salary proposal from David Edward, chairman of the teachers' salary committee, which would allow a more rapid advancement for new teachers and greater salary increases for teachers with advanced education.

The board requested Supt. Dennie B. Willis to determine how much the increases would cost, and how they might compare with other salary schedules in the county.

Dixie trustees also:

1. Accepted for consideration a request from Dr. William C. Sullivan of the Marinwood Parks and Recreation Commission for $500 for recreation programs in Marinwood this summer. The board has intended to discontinue participation in summer recreation programs.

2. Agreed to spend about $300 for preparation of a baseball field at the Vallecito School for use by the Pony League and $700 for a backstop at the Miller Creek School site baseball field.

3. Accepted gifts for faculty room furniture and books from the Marinwood Home and School Club, valued at $500.

4. Directed the superintendent to begin planning with architects for a portable classroom for use at the Vallecito School next year.

5. Authorized the hiring of Mrs. Elizabeth Krambs as a part-time payroll clerk in the district office, and the hiring of Mrs. Audrey Ostern as school secretary at the Mary E. Silveira School to replace Mrs. Krambs.

Bolinas-Stinson Against Unification Of Schools

Bolinas-Stinson Union School District trustees last night resolved that disadvantages of unification in all county school district outweigh advantages.

If forced into unification, Clerk Arthur E. Carpenter said, the board prefers unification with the Tamalpais Union High School District to encompass high school and elementary schools.

Prime disadvantage, Carpenter said, is the trustees believe a county unification would lessen the possible participation of citizens in public office. It would reduce the present 60 offices on school boards to seven, if one unified district, or 14 if two districts.

There would be no economic advantages, trustees said. However, there would be a few educational advantages, such as coordination between high school and elementary school teaching.

The board agreed to comply with county health department recommendations and place concrete around its well at Stinson Beach School. The well has been closed for three weeks since it has a "slightly high bacteria count," Carpenter said.

Trustees will meet at 8 p.m., Wednesday, April 8, one week early because of Easter vacation. There will be no other meeting this month.

Befriended Escaper Is Caught

A Humboldt County man quietly called police last night when he discovered that a man who was playing with his children in the living room was an escaped San Quentin inmate.

The fugitive, Robert E. Collins, 33, who had walked away from the Alder prison work camp in Del Norte County Tuesday afternoon, was still romping with the children of Morse Barnhart when police arrived at the Ferndale home.

Collins, serving a six-month to 15-year term for second degree burglary from San Bernardino County, told police he left the Alder camp, hitchhiked to Arcata, stole clothing to replace his prison demin and resumed hitchhiking.

Barnhart picked up Collins near Eureka about 3 a.m. yesterday. After hearing Collins' story that he was jobless and broke, Barnhart took him home, gave him food and a place to sleep.

Last night Barnhart saw a newspaper story and picture about Collins' escape and called police.

Collins was taken to the Del Norte County jail to await probate filing of escape charges.

Alumni Unit Is Planned For College

A number of College of Marin graduates met last night and named W. W. Van Winkle, class of 1953, chairman of a committee to organize an alumni organization and draft a constitution and by-laws.

The group voted to meet again at 8 p.m. April 17 in room 24, Harlan Hall, to make further plans.

Jack Ertola, class of 1948, and Don Anderson were named to write a constitution and by-laws to be presented to a business meeting, dinner and dance at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael, Sept. 14.

John Kunst, class of 1956, and Estelle Walker were named to plan arrangements for the dinner-dance.

Shirley Campanella was named committee secretary and public relations director.

School Tax Backed

Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce directors yesterday endorsed the proposal to maintain the present $1.90 tax rate of the Tamalpais Union High School District, Granville L. Beedle, secretary-manager, said today.

month per patient for costly hospital care when such patients need only nursing home care which could be provided for $350."

By the state's rules, Marin County can't pay the homes the difference between the new state rates and the former rates.

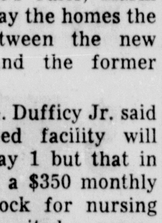

Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy Jr. said his new 97-bed facility will open about May 1 but that in Marin County, a $350 monthly rate is bed rock for nursing home care. He cited a survey two years ago which showed a cost at the county farm of $348 per patient per month without taxes, rent or other charges a private institution must pay.

"They're still 'way out of what we need here," he said of state officials.

Latin Military Aid Is Assured

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A top State Department official has assured Congress that the United States is prepared to give military help to any Latin American nation requesting aid to avert a Communist overthrow, it was disclosed today.

The disclosure was made today by the House foreign affairs subcommittee on Latin America which recently concluded three weeks of investigation into the spread of Castro-Communist subversion in Latin America.

A censored copy of the previously-secret testimony was made public today by Chairman Armistead Selden (D-Ala.). Selden's subcommittee issued its findings at the same time.

"Our basic position is that any government which asks for help in this matter will receive help," Assistant Secretary of State Edwin M. Martin told the subcommittee. "We are prepared militarily in anticipation of a political decision to give it."

Significantly, the House group's main recommendation was that the United States should be prepared to use military force, if needed, in response to any request for help by any hemispheric nation in danger of being overthrown by Castro-Communist subversion.

Selden asked Martin during the hearings:

"In the event Communist subversion reaches the point that some freely-elected government in Latin America is overthrown as a result of Communist infiltration and subversion, and this freely-elected government requests the United States to move in and help them, are we prepared to do so or has any policy decision been made along that line?"

Martin replied: "I do think it is difficult to anticipate all the circumstances in which military force may or may not be used, military force being what it is and having chain reactions. Nevertheless, the declaration of Punta Del Este contemplates bilateral assistance on request in dealing with Communist subversion."

Sausalito Planners Hold Over Zone Ordinance

The Sausalito Planning Commission held over until March 27 a hearing on five major changes in the zoning ordinance after spending last night's session on routine matters, said vice chairman Robert L. Nissen.

The amendments would upgrade requirements for apartments and duplexes, eliminate hotels from apartment zones, rezone an area on Rodeo Avenue from apartments to duplexes and require commission approval for any waterfront dredging and filling. The first hearing on the amendments was to have been held last night.

The commission denied a threefold request by Pertti J. C. LindFors and John D. Lannom for rezoning of property at 101 Third Street from duplex to apartment, a variance and a use permit for an additional unit to four already existing.

An application by Charles J. Hendrickson for a use permit for a five-unit apartment at Sausalito Boulevard and Second Street was denied. Although the area is already zoned for apartments, it has been recommended for duplex zoning in a revision of the ordinance.

The commission granted a use permit and variance to Robert Anderson for an addition to his duplex at 205 Valley Street.

FIRE

to her home at 166 Kipling Drive. "I couldn't understand her at first. She finally got out the word, 'fire'," said Mrs. Brown.

The Castanedas, natives of Colombia, have lived in Enchanted Knolls 18 months. Castaneda is a representative of a shipping company, the Grand Colombiana, in San Francisco.

The family's dog, Geppetto, escaped from the burning home and ran about the neighboring lawns barking furiously.

Fire Chief Leslie Armager said today the fire was apparently caused by someone cooking grease over the electric stove in a frying pan. The grease ignited and went up into the electrical fan and spread out over the attic and roof, causing damages estimated by Armager at $10,000. Damage to the home's contents was minor, the chief said.

Firemen fought through a hole in the roof over the kitchen to bring the blaze under control. There was minor damage in the kitchen.

Mrs. Castaneda, reported to be "fine" today, was taken by ambulance to a doctor in Mill Valley. An inhalator was called for but not used. The family spent the night with friends in Mill Valley.

for the first and second weeks of May in the hall and James Schwabacher was to give a concert at the hall March 31 as an extra concert. There are three candlelight concerts given per year in the hall.

Mrs. Emily Wingate, who had been selling rummage at the hall yesterday, was almost in tears when she walked in this morning to find her goods destroyed. Money from the continuing sale was to be used for building alterations.

Video Set Stolen From Motel Room

A television set was stolen from a motel room at Court San Rafael on Puerto Suello Hill just north of San Rafael sometime last night.

Mrs. Mabel K. Timmer, owner of the motel discovered the theft and called the sheriff this morning about 10 o'clock. She said the thief had cut the screen on a back window to enter the motel room.

'Cat Man' Gets Year's Probation

Fairfax accountant E. A. Larock of 17 Fir Trail drew one-year probation yesterday for creating a public nuisance by keeping a horde of cats at his home.

Judge Joseph G. Wilson of Marin Municipal Court ordered Larock to comply with all lawful orders of the County Health Department and Fairfax authorities hereafter.

Larock was found guilty last Friday of failing to abate a nuisance after being ordered to do so by county health officials. During the trial, witnesses testified that the cats, numbering anywhere from 20 to 60, created an "awful stench."

Dairy Exec Murphy Dies

MARTINEZ (AP) — Patrick J. Murphy, 59, executive vice president of Foremost Dairies Corp.'s subsidiary, International Dairy Supply Co., died last night of an apparent heart attack.

He was stricken as he and his wife, Diane, were attending the Contra Costa County Board of Adjustment meeting for a division of their property into smaller lots.

Murphy joined Golden State Dairies in 1926 as manager of the company's Richmond plant. Foremost later acquired Golden State.

No Candidates' Night Planned In San Rafael

No candidates' night is being planned for persons seeking election to San Rafael city offices, an informal poll of six San Rafael organizations has revealed.

The San Rafael Improvement Club, chamber of commerce, Glenwood Home Owners Assn., Lions, Kiwanis and Rotary clubs have no plans for a candidates night, according to spokesmen from the organizations.

California's Rep. Doyle Dies At 75

CLYDE DOYLE
Died in sleep

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Clyde Doyle (D-Calif.), acting chairman of the House committe on un-American activities, died unexpectedly in his sleep early today. He was 75.

The veteran congressman who was serving his ninth term had ben active in congressional work in recent days. Only last night he and Mrs. Doyle had attended an American Legion banquet.

He was found dead in his bed in his home in Arlington, Va., by Mrs. Doyle at 1:30 a.m.

Doyle represented California's 23rd District—a portion of Los Angeles County. He was the ranking Democratic member of the un-American activities committee and recently had been serving as its acting chairman because of the illness of the chairman, Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) He also was a ranking member of the House armed services committee.

Doyle had ben a lawyer for many years in Long Beach before he first was elected to Congress in 1944. There was a two-year gap, in the '40s, in his service record.

In addition to Mrs. Doyle, a daughter, Mrs. Richard Stanton of Rolling Hills, Calif., and two grandsons service. A son, First Lt. Clyde Doyle Jr., was killed in World War II.

Funeral plans were incomplete.

D.C. School Aide Says Paddles Are Needed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Public School Supt. Carl F. Hansen believes an "open hand, foot ruler or lightweight paddle" is the answer to unruly students in the nation's capital.

Corporal punishment applied to the "hand or the buttocks of a pupil" under "justified circumstances" would go far toward bringing order in the public schools, Hansen said yesterday.

Further disregard for a teacher's instructions might make it necessary to eject the student from the classroom, he said. The school head suggested use of "reasonable force for the purpose of propelling a pupil in a desired direction."

Grabbing a child's arm or coat lapel would be permissible in tossing an unruly student from the room, Hansen added.

Hansen told Congress in testimony on a corporal punishment bill for district schools that these measures would be used only when a teacher believes "this action may result in improved behavior on the part of the pupils."

They are needed, he said, to deal with the "insolent pupil who says 'You don't dare touch me.'"

Without such authority, teachers are hampered in keeping the peace and quiet in the classroom, Hansen noted. "A disordered classroom has never produced an orderly and disciplined mind."

Hansen's proposal of corporal punishment stems from a report on Washington public school problems made after a Thanksgiving Day high school football game riot.

The investigation was made by a special citizens committee which reported that a surprising lack of discipline and disregard of teachers' instructions contributed to the cause of the riot.

Hansen, acting on the report, recently recommended the lifting of a ban on corporal punishment as one means to improve public school discipline.

He also has recommended expelling students under 16 who are causing the most trouble in the schools and refuse to respond to discipline.

In his testimony yesterday Hansen said these measures should be applied only to serious discipline cases.

MMWD Working On Land Transfer

The Marin Municipal Water District board yesterday authorized General Mgr. William Seeger to work with State Division of Beaches and Parks officials on formal agreement for transfer of 161 acres of the district's land to the state for use as a park.

The board received official notification from the state on the take over of the property located on Mount Tamalpais adjacent to Mill Valley. The land will be transfered "by permit" until the state agency has funds for its purchase.

The board authorized publishing of a report being prepared with the North Marin Water District which will detail water requirements for the county up to the year 2020.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Authorized its attorney to request a jury trial for damages the board is seeking from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad in the Puerto Suello tunnel fire.

2. Approved pipeline extensions including 1,900 feet of six-inch pipe and 450 feet of four-inch pipe for Mariner Cove Unit 5 in Corte Madera.

3. Approved extension of 700 more feet of pipeline on Vendola Drive in Santa Venetia.

4. Purchased three pump control valves from the Charles M. Bailey Co. of San Francisco for $1,194 for the Tiburon Booster Station.

5. Purchased a 16-inch plug valve from Rockwell Co. of San Francisco for $866 to be used for relocation of pipeline in Northgate Shopping Center.

6. Purchased a tapping machine for $246 from Mueller Co. of San Francisco, with other equipment traded in.

Dragged To Safety On Bridge

A Daly City housewife hung by her fingers from the Golden Gate Bridge for a few agonizing moments about 1:30 p.m. yesterday until bridge workers dragged her up to safety.

Working near the bridge's south tower, electrical foreman Martin Siem and maintenance superintendent Bud Mullins saw Mrs. Margaret Juanita Bejar, 42, climb over the railing a short distance away.

They ran toward her and she slipped off a girder and hung from it until the two seized her wrists and hauled her up with aid of Richard Seward, a bridge painter.

Weeping, she declared that she was in poor health and had wanted to end her life. Investigation disclosed that she had four daughters and a husband, Ralph. A suicide note had been left at home. She was held today at San Francisco General Hospital for observation.

This Driver Is Traffic Stopper

MIAMI (AP) — A truck driver hit a power pole and broke it in half, then sped away.

The accident created a huge traffic jam by knocking out every traffic light for about a mile on two busy streets.

Jack Golden, 61, arrested later and charged with careless driving and leaving an accident scene, said he did so because "I didn't want to cause a traffic jam."

Foot Center Named For Marinite

Lesoine Hall, a new 40-chair outpatient treatment center of the California Podiatry College will be dedicated Saturday in San Francisco in honor of John A. Lesoine, one of the college's founders.

Lesoine, of 215 Upper Toyon Drive, Ross, helped establish the school of foot care in 1913, and was three times president of it in 1917, 1920 and 1941. Now retired, he is a life member trustee of the college and a trustee of San Rafael Military Academy as well.

The dedication will be held at 3:30 p.m. at the college at 1768 Eddy Street in San Francisco.

Good Neighbor Policy In Action

PONTIAC, Ill. (AP) — Jose Benavidez, 21, of Santa Fe, Argentina, doesn't understand much English, but he had a wonderful time at a surprise party in his honor.

Jose, who bicycled to the United States, was struck by a hit and run driver, breaking one of his legs.

Pontiac residents, the Chamber of Commerce and the hospital staff members combined to give the young man, among other things, a leather jacket. The one he wore when struck on Route 66 had the sleeve ripped from it in the collision.

Plant Investment

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The independent telephone business requires a plant investment of about $49,800 per worker against an average of $8,500 for industry in general, according to the U.S. Independent Telephone Assn.

Novato Fire Study Delay Is Requested

Postponement of a fire rating study by the Pacific Fire Rating Bureau was asked last night by the Novato Fire District board meeting in fire station No. 1.

The board is studying the installation of a fire alarm system. A postponement of the study until November when the fire alarm system is installed may result in a better rating, said Fire Chief George Cavallero.

A first aid course will be given to the volunteer and regular firemen for five weeks starting next Tuesday, the board was told last night. The Red Cross is supplying the instructor for the course.

The chief was authorized to install buzzers on the five trucks at a cost of $41. These buzzers will enable firemen riding on the rear of the truck to signal the driver inside the cab.

Authorization to accept two old buildings for burning was given the chief by the board.

San Marin Sewer Line Cost Given

Cost of running a trunk sewer line to the 4,200 unit San Marin subdivision last night was estimated at $177,000 by the Novato Sanitary District board meeting with the representatives of Sunset International Petroleum Corp., the developers.

The proposed sewer line would connect with the 30 inch sewer at Lamont Avenue and Highway 101. The sewer trunk line would go up Novato Boulevard to connect with the San Marin development west of Eucalyptus Avenue.

Meeting with the board last night were Al Miller, project manager and D. A. Walter, president of Sunset International Petroleum Corp.

The board adjourned to March 21.

Auto industry and seat belt maker figures indicate that about 4.5 million seat belts were distributed by all makers during 1961, with the auto industry alone distributing about 5 per cent of this total.

Larkspur Rec Unit Questions County Getting Dump Profit

Larkspur Park and Recreation commissioners last night questioned whether the county should enjoy a profit from operating the dump alongside Doherty Drive inside the city limits.

Chairman Peter Krug sent City Mgr. Ronald E. Piper a note today asking for a report on the city's arrangement with the county regarding dump operations.

Commissioners expressed concern over a report that the county is netting $5,000 a year from the dump. Krug told the commission he believes there is a 30 day termination provision in the contract with the county.

Commissioners discussed a story in the Independent-Journal of March 6 quoting county public works director Donald R. Frost as saying the county would "net over $5,000 from the dump operation during the next year even with an additional man and purchase of a tractor." The county recently authorized purchase of a new tractor for the dump.

The story reported M. J. Lamperti of San Rafael, president of the Key-Link Corp., wrote the county board of supervisors suggesting the county go out of the dump business. Key-link would like to take over the operation, Lamperti wrote.

Supervisors William D. Fusselman and William A. Gnoss agreed there appeared no good reason to abandon county operation of the dump. Frost said he would check further, said the March 6 story.

Piper today declined comment pending an investigation but another city aide said the issue was not one of the county's making money from the city "because we're getting free fill for the park we plan along Doherty Drive."

On the matter of that proposed park, the Larkspur Recreation Commission last night voted to ask the city council for $3,000 for planning and developing the park. This would include $1,500 that the council alloted last year and then withheld pending development of a city general plan.

The commission decided to write the city council inquiring what liability insurance the city has on Eastman Hall's Park. Commissioner Paul Otis was absent.

Teen Girl Hurt In Fall From Scooter

A teen-aged girl from Belvedere fell off a motor scooter at the Reed School grounds last night and suffered a possible dislocated knee, sheriff's deputies reported today.

Miss Nancy Bricca, about 13 or 14, of Belvedere was in Children's Hospital, San Francisco, undergoing treatment today. Officials at the hospital said they could not give any information on the injury or the next of kin.

Principal Robert B. Gaw of Reed School called the sheriff at 7:30 last night to report the accident, which occurred about 5 p.m. The principal told investigators that Chris Coombs, 16, of 541 Comstock Drive, Tiburon, had offered the girl a ride home on his motor scooter. She got on the scooter behind Coombs, and as the scooter accelerated, the girl fell.

LUXURY CAR: RIDES, RESPONDS AND LOOKS LIKE IT OUGHT TO COST A RANSOM

You're looking at our Impala Super Sport Convertible which, along with its cousin the Sport Coupe, absolutely embarrasses higher priced cars. That special trim and those front bucket seats merely hint at the comforts you find in every Impala SS.

Performance? It's remarkable, an understatement we can afford when there are 7 engines to choose from. One of which is the popular 340-hp Turbo-Fire 409*, a wizard in traffic and a joy on the open road. And others all the way up to 425 hp*.

If you want an extra flourish or two, mull over extra-cost options like floor-shift four-speed manual or Powerglide transmission, Positraction rear axle for better road adhesion, fade-resistant sintered-metallic brake linings, and a tachometer to relay what's cooking up front.

Just before you rush off to your Chevrolet dealer, may we remind you that both Impala Super Sports offer the new Comfortilt steering wheel*. You adjust it to suit your driving style, flick it out of the way for easy entry and exit.

All three Chevrolet series—Biscayne, Bel Air and Impala—deserve a long look. Super Sports almost demand it.

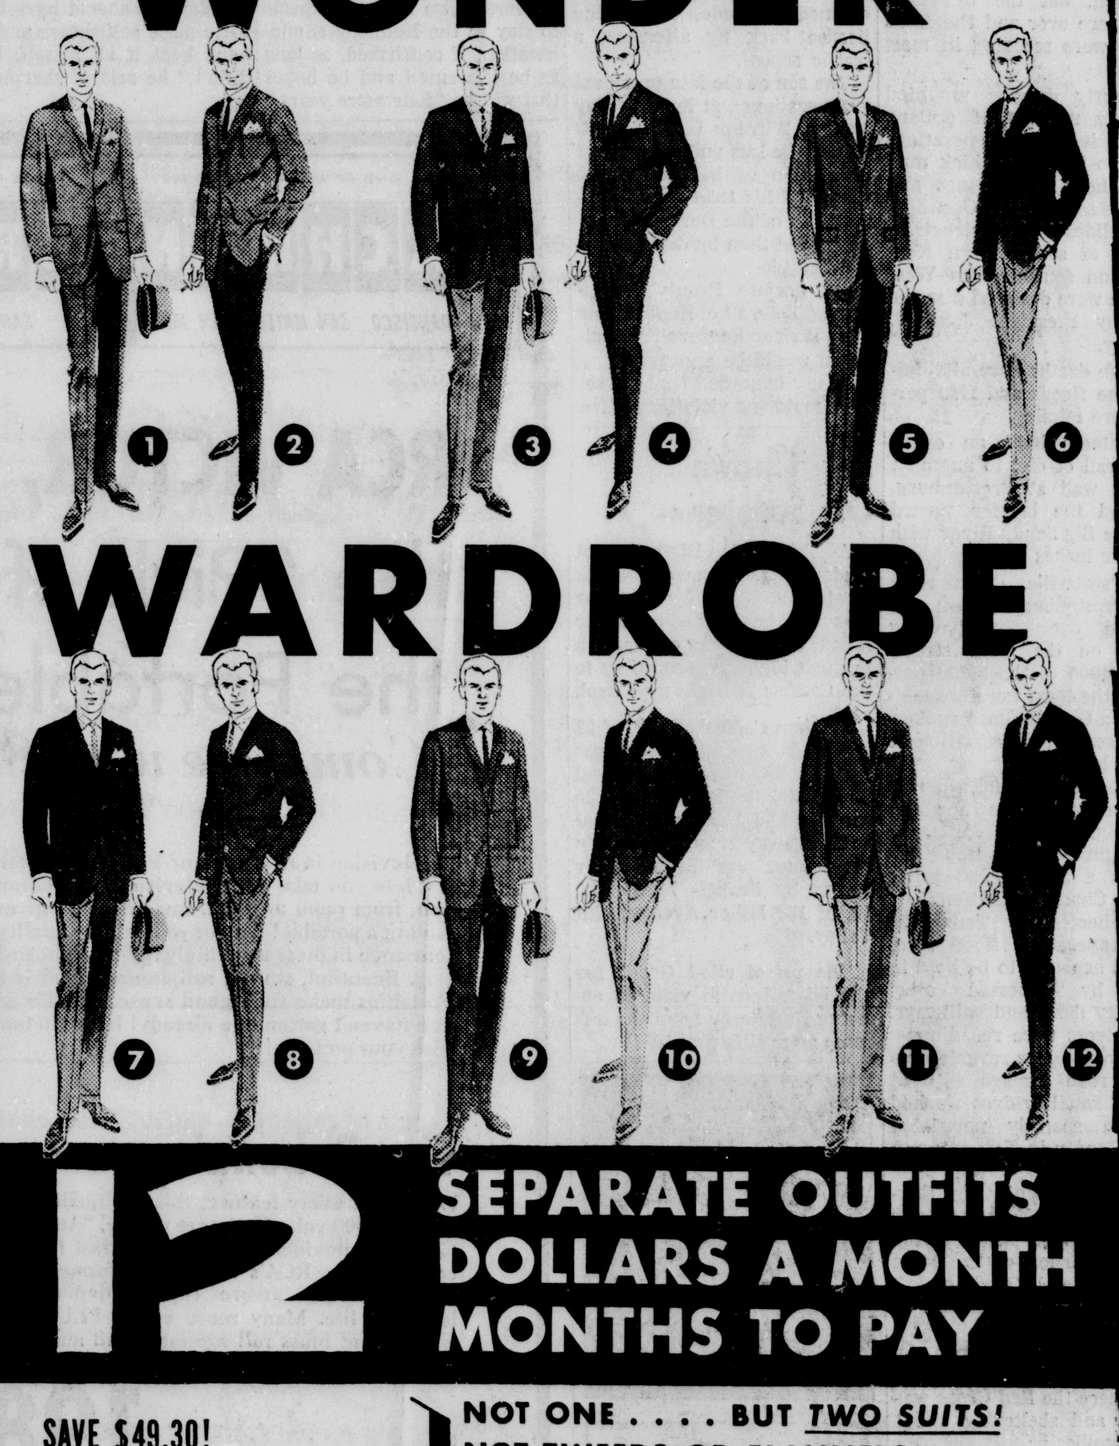

Super Sport equipment* available on both Impala Convertible and Sport Coupe. *Optional at extra cost.

LEVEE SAVES TOWN — Volunteers, who worked throughout the night building an extension of the existing floodwall at Prestonsburg, Ky., stand on their project after the Big Sandy River crested just four inches below the top of the emergency levee. (AP Wirephoto)

Misery Left In Wake Of U.S. Floods

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Mud, muck and misery greeted thousands of families returning to their homes today in portions of five southern states hit hardest by rampaging rivers and streams.

Other thousands were homeless still, but the torrential rains were over and the flood waters were receding in most sections.

Property damage mounted to many millions of dollars, and massive cleanup operations added to the cost. Thick mud coated homes businesses and roads in some areas. Occasional mudslides blocked streets.

Parts of southeastern Kentucky and southwestern West Virginia were declared disaster areas by President John F. Kennedy.

Fifteen deaths were attributed to the floods and five persons were missing.

Volunteers built an emergency wall of dirt to augment a flood wall at Prestonburg, Ky., and the barrier turned back the Big Sandy River with just four inches to spare.

At Paintsville, down river from Prestonburg, water was reported over the parking meters on the main street. About 1,000 of the 2,400 persons in the town were evacuated, but a Civil Defense spokesman described the situation as well in hand.

Ten passengers and a driver were rescued from a Greyhound bus trapped for more than eight hours in flood waters on a highway 35 miles west of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Elsewhere, the Tennessee River approached flood level but was expected to be held in control by Tennessee Valley Authority dams and spillways. Other rivers were receding.

Lowering water revealed extensive road damage with at least 50 small bridges washed away in sparsely populated Cocke County in East Tennessee.

In West Virginia the Guyandette and Tug rivers were back within their banks in the southern portion of the state after Tuesday's flooding left property damage estimated at 7.2 million-dollars.

Flood waters also were going down in southwestern Virginia where the Red Cross was feeding and sheltering about 1,000 families.

Tire, Wheel Stolen

Theft of a tire and wheel, valued at $45, from a small foreign car was reported to San Rafael police yesterday by John Glessing of 7 Harrison Avenue, Sausalito. Glessing said his car was parked on B Street, above Fifth Avenue, on Monday and Tuesday between 3:30 p.m. and 11 p.m.

Roosevelt Defends Driving Record, Business Dealings With Trujillo

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. today defended his automobile driving record before a Senate committee considering his appointment as undersecretary of commerce.

Roosevelt told a determined Republican questioner he did not think loss of his driver's license for traffic violations constituted a "public-be-damned" attitude. He got the license back by attending a traffic school.

The son of the late president was questioned at length today by Sen. Winston L. Prouty (R-Vt.) on the loss and subsequent restoration of his driver's license and his 1956 legal representation of the Dominican Republic, led then by dictator Rafael Trujillo.

But despite Prouty's questioning Senate Republicans made it clear Roosevelt's nomination would be approved.

Prouty conceded that Roosevelt's motoring violations—five in all—were mostly minor—involving wrong turns, passing flashing red lights or a stop sign, but asked the appointee:

"Does it not suggest a pattern of perhaps a 'public-be-damned' attitude with respect to use of the streets and highways?"

"If you ask me, I'd say no," he said.

Under Prouty's questioning, Roosevelt also said he expects to stay in the Kennedy administration, if confirmed, as long as he is wanted and he hopes that will be "four more years."

He said he turned into his New York law firm's overall account the $30,000 he received for his half of the joint legal representation of the Dominican Republic which he and Washington lawyer Charles Patrick Clark held. Roosevelt said he dropped the account at the end of the first year of its two-year term because he "did not feel this fee was justified."

"Maybe I should have had a little more selfishness and perhaps kept it all myself, but I didn't," he said of sharing the fee.

Boy Thrown Off Scooter

A Tamalpais High School student was thrown off his scooter and suffered minor cuts and bruises when a car failed to yield in entering a through highway, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Stephen C. Yeazell, 17, of 21 Miller Avenue, Sausalito was treated by the high school nurse after the accident at 7:25 a.m. He had been northbound on Bridgeway in Sausalito when his scooter was hit by a car driven by Francis M. Orella, 19, of 153 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

The patrol cited Orella for alleged failure to yield in entering Bridgeway from the off-ramp from Highway 101.

Organization Aides, County Officials Debate Center Fees

Two frugel-minded county officials united on a program of charging expenses for non-government use of Civic Center meeting rooms at a radio KTIM "Marin Sounding Board" panel discussion today. Heads of two organizations as staunchly demanded a free ride for all.

"No identifiable public organization should be charged,' was the summary of the no-fee position given by Harold Stockstad, chairman of the Marin Council for Civic Affairs, Gerritt Orton, president of the Marin Federation of Improvement Clubs, lined up on the same side.

But Supervisor George Ludy felt the taxpayer shouldn't subsidize private groups and thought the expense-fee principle should be extended to the courthouse annex rooms, also a Veterans Memorial Auditorium when built.

"For the county to duplicate already tax-charged school facilities is unwarranted," said Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows, pointing to a special school tax of five cents per $100 assessed valuation covering this.

Stockstad said that actually the schools' tax is supposed to vary because it covers only costs of meeting rooms, so in theory if the county drew all these meetings away the school charge would vanish. In practice, rejoined Barrows, it does not seem to work out that way.

Moderator Kitty Oppenheimer, whose program will be repeated at 12:30 p.m. Sunday by tape recording, received far more telephoned questions than could be handled but there was agreement on only one which was read. This suggested coverage of room costs by a contribution box.

"That would be most unfair," declared Ludy. "One organization would leave a bunch of cigarette butts while the next would pay."

"It doesn't sound very businesslike," conceded Stockstad and the other two agreed.

Orton observed that "the supervisors have discovered they have a very marketable commodity" in the administration building's meeting rooms.

Stockstad felt this was a commodity best given away as a public relations measure to ward off renewed controversy, such as accompanied initiation of the Civic Center, when heavy costs of its next phase of construction come before the public.

But Ludy said he had investigated broadly and found it a usual practice to let individual groups pay the costs of their meetings, rather than get free use which meant payment by all taxpayers.

On this point Barrows cited a variety of charges including fee schedules for school facilities where the use isn't on an approved list. Admitting that the San Francisco auditorium is not directly comparable with even the combined Marin supervisors-planners chamber for which $25 would be charged for two hours, he cited an auditorium fee of $400 for four hours and $100 for a smaller meeting room.

The supervisors' action last Tuesday in declaring a 30-day moratorium on the Civic Center fee schedule was "to give time for more study," said Ludy, but he indicated that his own mind was made up that fairness to taxpayers requires payment for rooms by those who use them.

Cost of such use was termed "negligible" by Stockstad but Ludy said prospects are that it may run in excess of $10,000 a year.

Opposing the idea that school districts should pay costs of meetings on countywide matters, Orton said that "any groups which represent the county as a whole should meet in county facilities."

One questioner said he was for fees but wanted them turned over to senior citizens but Ludy felt that "the senior citizens' groups are no different from others, and should not be financed by the taxpayers." Orton agreed that nothing taken as fees should be turned over to any group.

Mother, Girl Hurt In Crash

A Corte Madera mother and small daughter were listed by the California Highway Patrol as being slightly hurt, but not hospitalized, as result of a rear-end automobile accident at Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and College Avenue, Kentfield, at 2 p.m. yesterday.

Mrs. Margaret B. Smith of 5 Madrone Way, Kentfield, told the patrol she stopped for a pedestrian on the crosswalk as she was driving onto Sir Francis Drake. Following close behind, Mrs. Anne G. Norman of 940 Meadowsweet Drive, Corte Madera, failed to halt her car and rammed into Mrs. Smith's vehicle.

Mrs. Norman and her 3-year-old daughter Clair suffered bruises.

To Show Designs

An exhibit of photographic designs by Ernest Braun of San Anselmo will be shown at the Rafael Racquet Club Saturday and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., not on Friday and Saturday, as was stated in yesterday's Independent-Journal.

ROSS WRECK INJURES THREE

One San Anselmo and two San Rafael youths were injured seriously yesterday when a car driven by one ran head-on into a tree in front of 201 Bolinas Avenue, Ross. The littered interior of the car attested to the force of the impact which pushed in the front end of the car. See story, page 1. (John H. Grant photo)

April Aaron Plans To Wed

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Wedding bells will soon ring out for April Aaron, the girl whose courage in fighting back to health after a knife attack won the city's admiration.

Her mother yesterday announced that April, 23, will wed Graham Dodd, 26, some time this year. He is now a student at Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah, and April is doing office work in Salt Lake City to be near him.

The girl was the victim of a purse snatcher early last year. The man, who was never apprehended, slashed out at her with a knife, striking her in the eye, on the hand and in the leg. She lost an eye.

On Dec. 1, 1959, all nations with claims to Antarctic territory signed a treaty declaring the area south of 60 degrees south latitude an international preserve for scientific research.

Civic Center Office Space Begins Battle

Marin County department heads, scarcely settled in the new Civic Center for four months, are already beginning to quarrel over office space.

The first tug-of-war began yesterday at a meeting of the Civic Center Committee when County Administrator Alan Bruce informed librarian Virginia Keating that her offices offered the only likely spot for new quarters for the County Parks and Recreation District director, to be hired next month.

"Of course, I object," Mrs. Keating declared. "For the first time we've got enough room. And otherwise we will be back to the same situation we had at 1711 Grand Avenue (former location of the county library).

"I will refuse unless the board orders it."

The committee, comprising Bruce, Planning Director B. D. Dobbs, Public Works Director Donald Frost and County Counsel E. Warren McGuire, said its only alternative was to put the matter in the hands of the board of supervisors.

Two proposed locations for the new director's office would be in the library's school textbook storage area or in the library conference room.

Dobbs told Mrs. Keating the office location was "not a permanent solution, and in five or six years the parks and recreation office will be in the new wing, we hope."

The board will consider the committee's proposals Tuesday.

Rat Hunt Continues

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rat hunting health inspectors in their third day of combing the Marina district reported they had set 800 traps and caught eight rats. None had bubonic plague like the dead one that touched off the hunt.

GETS DIVORCE — Actress Peggy Ann Garner puts a hand to her face outside a Santa Monica courtroom before getting a divorce from actor Albert Walmi. Miss Garner told the judge she developed a thyroid condition because she and her husband were always arguing over where they would live. Miss Garner, 31, wanted Hollywood; Walmi, 35, wanted New York. The divorce was granted yesterday. (AP Wirephoto)

Marshall School Aid Is Sought

Trustees of the Tomales Bay Union School District last night agreed that Principal Floyd T. Billigmeier should write to the State Department of Education, requesting additional financial aid for Marshall School.

The school has an enrollment this year of only 22 pupils, said Mrs. Lois Parks, clerk of the board.

The board last night tentatively adopted a personnel policy for the district and authorized Hollywood Photo Co. of San Francisco to take pictures of pupils.

Theft At Hospital

Theft of a $400 dictaphone transcriber from the medical record room of San Rafael General Hospital was reported yesterday to police by Mrs. Dareyl L. Jones, medical records librarian. The theft occured sometime Monday night, she said.

Novato Swim Pool Architects Selected

The Novato Swimming Pool Committee, composed of members of the city council and Novato Unified School District trustees, last night selected architects Rockwell and Banwell to design a community pool to be built on high school property.

The committee will present its recommendation Tuesday at a meeting of trustees and an adjourned meeting of the council. The architects designed the high school and the master plan for the high school site. They were among three firms considered last night.

After the architects have been selected officially, it will take an estimated 60 days to prepare plans and get approval from the State Department of Education. Then construction bids will be asked.

Father Charged In Torture, Imprisonment Of Daughter

WARREN, Ohio (UPI)—Francis Jesse Carr, 44, and his sister-in-law, Jeanette Carr, were scheduled to appear in municipal court here today on charges of torturing and maltreating Carr's daughter.

Deputies said Frances Jean Carr, 18, was kept locked in a barn at Carr's home since last fall, and was often kept locked in a metal box measuring 34 inches by 21 inches by 20 inches.

The girl was listed in poor condition at Warren General Hospital with badly frostbitten feet, gangrene of the toes and malnutrition.

Deputies said Frances Jean was five feet five inches tall and weighed 78 pounds.

The Carrs were released on bond last night pending their court appearance today.

Deputies said the girl was kept locked in a tack room in the barn in Warren Township, just outside the city. She was permitted, they said, to walk around in the room, but was not permitted out of the room.

"She looks like a fugitive from a concentration camp," one deputy said. All her front teeth were missing.

The officer said the only reason Carr gave for keeping his daughter locked up was that "anything she'd do, she'd do wrong."

The sheriff's office said the girl freed herself from her barn prison, in which she had lived through the bitter winter northern Ohio experienced, by breaking a hole in the tack room door and reaching out to release the lock on Tuesday.

She got a ride to the home of the Roy Minton family about two miles away. Frances Jean knows the Mintons, who notified authorities.

The Carrs were arrested later in the day.

Deputies said the girl was poorly fed, her meals consisting of such things as coffee and rolls mixed up into a paste and served in a frying pan. She had to eat with her hands.

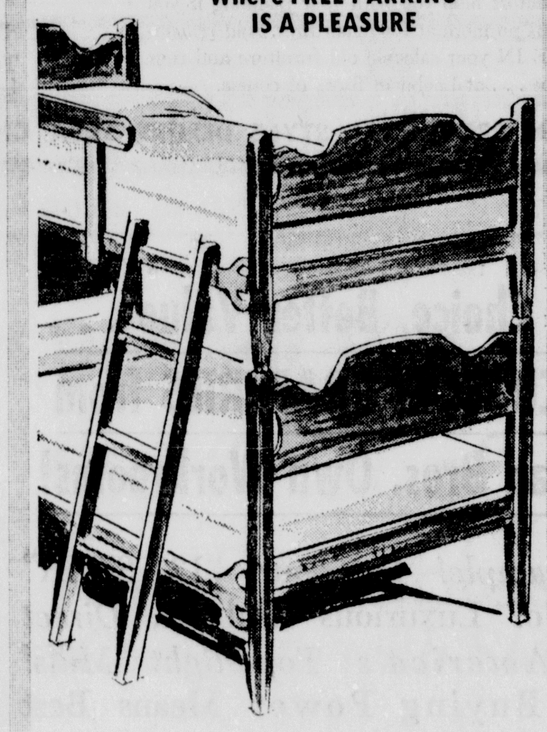

Jewish Welfare Chairman Named

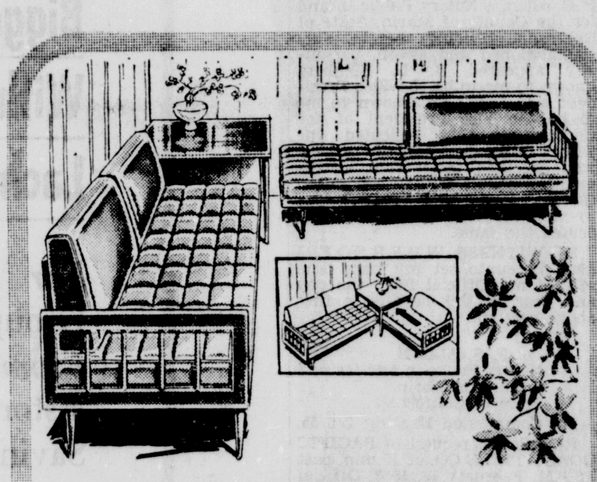

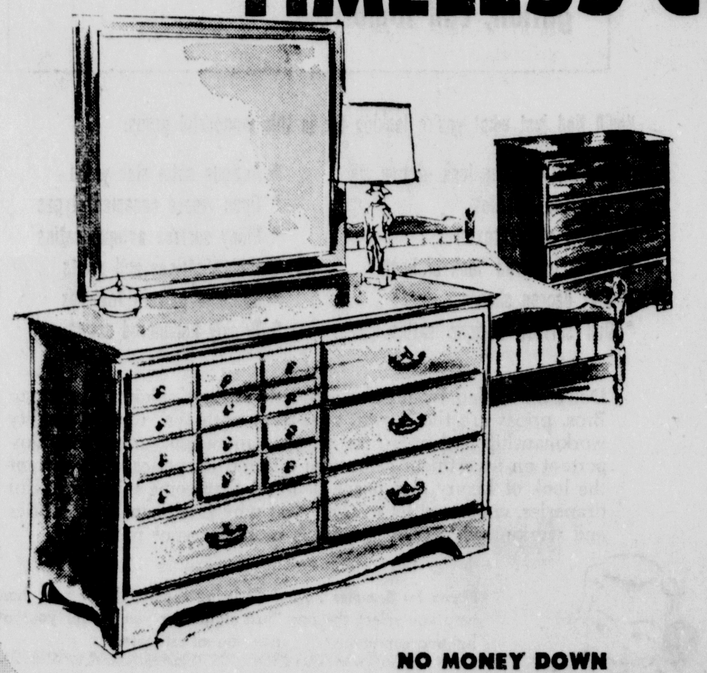

Jack Atkins, 57 Vallejo Way, San Rafael, has been named chairman of the general unit in the Marin division, 1963 Jewish Welfare Federation campaign, was announced today.

Also named by Rabbi Morton I. Hoffman, over-all chairman for Marin, were Morris Bode, 421 Hickory Lane, San Rafael and Philip Landa, 975 Calle Paseo, Ignacio, Northern Marin co-chairman and Walter Fink, 18 Via Hermosa, San Rafael, Southern Marin chairman.

The goal of the drive conducted in San Francisco, Marin County and the Peninsula is $2,500,000, with funds earmarked for 33 local, national and overseas agencies. Among the 14 local beneficiaries is the Marin Jewish Community Center.

Rafferty Scored For 'Left' Remarks

SACRAMENTO — Dr. Max Rafferty has drawn a stinging rebuke from two leading legislators for airing complaints of leftist leanings among state college faculties.

Assemblyman Gordon H. Winton Jr. (D-Merced), who supports Rafferty in the dispute over textbooks, called it "witch hunting of the most odorous sort" and "blatant irresponsibility."

Chairman Charles B. Garrigus (D-Reedley) of the Assembly Education Committee commented:

"Dr. Rafferty does not yet understand who he is and where he is in relation to the dimension of his public responsibility."

The new superintendent of public instruction said Tuesday he has received about 100 letters alleging what he termed "an imbalance to the left" in political science and economic departments of unnamed state colleges.

Rafferty said he didn't know if the charges were true, but called for an investigation by the State College Board of Trustees, of which he is a member.

William Coblentz, San Francisco attorney and chairman of the faculty affairs committee of the trustees, said Rafferty should have consulted the board before publicizing the complaints.

"My committee believes in academic freedom and free expression of views by faculty members," he said.

Louis Heilbron of San Francisco, chairman of the trustees, said he knows of no evidence to support the complaints.

Measure Asks More Money For Harbors

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — A bill which could increase the allocation of gas tax money to the small craft harbors commission from the present $750,000 a year to upwards of 2.4 million dollars a year has been approved by the state assembly and sent to the senate.

Assemblyman John C. Williamson (D-Bakersfield) said the measure, AB239, actually is only a part of a package he hopes to get through the legislature this year.

"The main thing, of course, is to get the money first," Williamson said, "and that's what this bill does."

Subsequent Williamson bills may go into the distribution of the gas tax money, probably providing for a division by the resources agency, with certain fixed limitations.

Tougher Credentials For Teachers On Tap

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Education began a two-day meeting here today to discuss plans to make it tougher to get a California teaching credential.

The board also plans to act on several other proposals, including one requiring schools districts to certify that any redistricting plans will not obstruct racial integration.

The new credentialing proposals probably won't be acted on until after a public hearing April 11-12.

They would implement a new law designed to make sure, in Board President Thomas W. Braden's words, "that teachers know more about what they are teaching, as well as how to teach it."

The new law, known as the Fisher Bill, is scheduled to go into effect July 1. A bill has been introduced in the legislature to delay the effective date to Sept. 1, 1964.

Sen. Donald Grunsky (R-Watsonville) argued that college catalogs have already been printed, and colleges will not have time to tool up for the new requirements.

They include five years of college instead of four, and having prospective teachers major or minor in an academic subject.

The department of education estimated that nine out of ten prospective teachers now major or minor in education, which is not "academic" under the new law.

Instead, prospective teachers will have to have a major and a minor in a subject matter area, and one must be academic.

This Lady Had The Last Word

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Carol Stark, 20, a Drake University senior, attended a concert one recent night. She planned to take a cab home, only to discover she didn't have enough money.

So, she started walking. Along a dark street a carload of boys stopped, and one of them grabbed her, saying "You're going for a ride honey." Seconds later the youth landed with a thud on the pavement.

What he didn't know is that Carol is taking judo lessons. When she called to the other boys, "Who's next?", they sped away.

Prosperity Confirmed

FORT MADISON, Ia. (AP) — If sales of red ink are a barometer of the nation's economic health, last year was a prosperous one. Shaeffer Pen Co. reports 1962 shipments of red ink were 11 per cent below the previous year's total.

Man Comes To Aid Of Frightened Woman

SILVER SPRINGS, Nev. (UPI) —Old Charlie Cibley peered out from the porch of his shack in the dustry Nevada sageland and reached for his shotgun.

Bouncing over the desert toward his home, a half-mile off the road, was a car containing two frightened women from nearby Silver Springs. Right behind them was a pickup truck with two men in it.

The women halted in front of his shack and ran up to him, pleading for help. They said the men had been following them and forced their car off the road.

As Cibley, about 70, watched, the pickup truck broke down a few hundred yards short of his shack. The men got out and approached on foot toward the little group on the porch—Cibley, his shotgun on his arm, and the two women, Mrs. Donna Holland and Mrs. Jean Jackson, both about 30.

Cibley shouted at them to stop, but they kept coming. He fired a shot over their heads, but they didn't even pause.

Cibley then aimed at the first of the two men, Jack Douglas Archer, 27, of Citrus Heights, Calif., and dropped him with a single shot. The second man, Elmer Muller, 33, also of Citrus Heights, turned and ran.

Lyon County sheriff's deputies arrived and picked up the two men. Archer died en route to a hospital. Muller was booked for assault with a deadly weapon—the pickup truck.

Getting Set For Spring Planting? Here's Chance For Some Bargains

If you're getting ready for spring planting or for swimming pool parties, here's your chance to stock up on supplies.

Murata's Nursery and Herb's Pool Service are holding a three-day grand opening this weekend just north of San Rafael across the highway from the Civic Center. Girls in Oriental costume will be serving tea and cakes tomorrow, Saturday and Sunday.

The new nursery is owned by George Murata, whose prize-winning landscaped gardens are making national magazines. The pool service is operated by Herb Dougan.

HOBBYLAND, 1 Front Street, Novato, has been taken over by Robert Rankin, retired from the Air Force and known as the "Colonel of Railroading," indicating a hobby of long standing. Doubtless Hobbyland will reflect some of the colonel's interest in miniatures. He is also balancing the stocks with radio controls and model airplanes. Former owner Fred Foley will give all his time to the United Airlines from now on.

RECENT INCORPORATIONS: Marin Builders Control, Inc., Novato. (Recently organized firm providing records control for builders). Incorporated for $50,000 — $10 par shares. Tresch Electrical Co., Novato — incorporated for $200,000 — $100 par shares. Bob Herman Garden Supplies, Inc., San Rafael—incorporated for $100,000—$10 par shares. A and J Shooter, Inc., 11 Jacoby Street, San Rafael (expanding present landscaping services). Incorporated for $100,000—$100 par shares. J and E Builders, Inc. (Building contractors John R. Reystead of Mill Valley and Eugene D. McGillicuddy of Novato). Incorporated for $75,000 — $100 par shares.

YOU MAY HAVE NOTICED IT—a longer list of daily stock quotations which started appearing in our pages last Friday. Figures are now furnished by Associated Press wire. We are very grateful for the information we've been getting in the past from John D. Murphy and Earll T. Riley Jr. of Irving Lundborg and Co., San Rafael.

MOTORCRAFT. New car sales last month were reported higher than February 1962 by all American manufacturers, making it the best February since '55 . . . Volkswagen now has a more powerful engine available for trucks and station wagons. It has the traditional design but develops 50 horsepower instead of 40 . . . Northern California Motor Car Dealers Assn. is holding its convention in San Francisco today and tomorrow. Outgoing treasurer is James Scripture, San Rafael Oldsmobile dealer . . . The name of Willys Motors, Inc. has been changed to Kaiser Jeep Corp. for identification. Kaiser purchased Willys-Overland in 1953.

YOUTHFUL SCIENTISTS are one thing — and someday their names may become well known in the space industry. But their curiosity and experimentation needs proper channeling and guidance. Marinite's Cats Win 7 Championships

Seven championships with seven entries were won by Mrs. Cherie Weiss, owner of Meow Meadows of 330 School Lane, Novato, at the American Cat Fanciers Assn. cat show Sunday in San Jose.

Winning cats were: Lola, champion and best spay in show; Priscilla, champion and best domestic opposite sex; Velvet Rose, champion and three trophies for best solid color in show; Effervescence, champion and best of color; Hot Shot, champion and trophy for best solid color male in show; Little Iodine, champion and best of color and Sir Alexander, champion.

Marinite Named Editor Of S.P. News Bureau

Appointment of William G. Phelps, a former editor of the Mill Valley Record, as editor of Southern Pacific's news bureau was announced today by James G. Shea, general public relations manager for SP.

Phelps replaces Henry M. Ortiz, who has been named Northwest public relations manager for the railroad, with headquarters in Portland.

Phelps, a graduate of the University of Oregon School of Journalism, joined SP in 1956. Earlier he had worked for a number of newspapers, including the Wall Street Journal, the Eugene Register-Guard, and the Salem Capital Journal.

He lives at 73 Hillside Avenue, Mill Valley.

Lawmaker At War With 'Poison' Glue

SACRAMENTO (CNS) —The youngsters who build model airplanes were in the position today of not knowing whether, in the future, they'll have to have their parents buy their glue for them or get a prescription for it from the family doctor.

As the result of reports of juveniles who sniffed the glue for a form of intoxication, Assemblyman Tom Carrell (D-San Fernando), introduced a bili some weeks ago restricting the sale of airplane glue to adults. Now, Carrell said he's run into so much opposition from glue manufacturers that he is striking back by having the glue included in a list of poisons subject to the poison law.

Under the law, poisons can be sold only by pharmacists and the same would be true for the airplane glue.

"My original proposal, which merely restricted the sale of these dangerous substances to adults on the presumption that parents would accept the responsibility of monitoring its use, has received much support from individuals and from a number of civic associations," Carrell said. "The extent of the opposition from certain business interests, together with a certain amount of bureaucratic resistance has prompted this invitation to a showdown.

"I am determined that we must face this issue now, during this legislative session, and meet headon the question: 'Are youths or profits to be of paramount importance in California?' " Carrell said.

Paralized Woman To Get State Money

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly voted yesterday to appropriate $400,000 in state money so a $650,000 judgment can be paid to a San Diego woman paralyzed in an automobile accident with a California highway patrolman.

The woman, Mrs. Lucille E. Shoemaker, 35, a former secretary, lost the use of all four limbs, the sight of one eye, and now has only partial hearing and speaking ability. She requares 24 hours per day nursing care and has a life expectancy of 30 years.

The bill, by Assemblyman Robert W. Crown (D-Alameda) now goes to the Senate.

A San Diego County Superior Court jury awarded Mrs. Shoemaker $500,000 and her husband, Howard E. Sshomaker, an electrical engineer, $150,000, because he is the woman's guardian. Insurance covered only $250,000 so the state has to pay the remainder out of its own pocket.

The accident occurred June 6, 1959, when Mrs. Shoemaker's car collided headon with one driven by Highway Patrolman William Edwin Carrington, who was on an emergency call. Both vehicles were over the center line, but the jury found that Carrington was "negligent." He still is employed by the CHP.

The appropriation was criticized by Assemblyman Charles J. Conrad (R-Sherman Oaks) who noted that the woman was over the white line seven inches, although the highway patrolman was over by two feet.

"I cannot see how under the laws of California this type of judgment could have been rendered by the courts," Conrad said.

But Assemblyman Howard J. Thelin (R-Glendale) said "We cannot retry this case on the Assembly floor. The state has an honest obligation to pay the judgment."

Other Assemblymen said the state should investigate the possibility of carrying more insurance.

The jury returned the judgment Jan. 10, 1963, and since none of the sum has been paid, the state is obligated for $121 daily interest. But Crown said this may be waived if the urgency bill is pushed through quickly.

Women Smokers

Highway Taxes Yield $40 Million

SACRAMENTO (AP) — California's highway users taxes yielded more than 400 million dollars to the state treasury for the first time last year, the Board of Equalization reported yesterday.

The bulk of the total revenue of $407,126,000 came from the six-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax, which produced 369.8 million dollars on sales of 6.16 billion gallons.

The diesel fuel tax yielded 22.2 million dollars; the transportation tax on buses and for-hire trucks, 13.65 million dollars, and liquefied petroleum gas taxes 1.24 million dollars.

Total gross revenue was up 5 per cent from 1961.

Millions In Bonds Due Sale

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — One hundred million dollars in state construction and school bands will go on sale April 10, the state treasurer's office said yesterday.

The bonds, designed to finance construction of state and local school district facilities, are portions of a total 570 million dollars in bonds authorized by voters in November 1959 and June 1960.

The combined offering will include 50 million dollars in state construction bonds, the last portion of 270 million dollars authorized in 1958, and 50 million dollars in state school building aid bonds, part of 300 million dollars authorized in 1960.

State Treasurer Bert A. Betts announced the sale date in New York City at a meeting of municipal bond underwriters in New York City.

He said it was the first major offering of bonds since last September when four million dollars in small craft harbor bonds were sold.

Here's Story Behind Opposition To Braden's Position

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Braden case has become something of a cause celebre in California. It has touched off a massive letter-writing campaign as part of a fight over Thomas W. Braden's reappointment to the State Board of Education, but the issues are far from clear. The following analysis goes into the background of the dispute.

By AUSTIN SCOTT

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A week from today, three Democrats and two Republicans who comprise the Senate Rules Committee will open a hearing on Gov. Edmund G. Brown's reappointment of Thomas W. Braden to the State Board of Education.

Whatever the committee does is bound to keep the smoldering controversy alive.

If it recommends Senate confirmation, opponents contend they have the support to prevent Braden's getting the required 27 votes.

If it recommends against confirmation, Governor Brown could withdraw the appointment. But he has warmly defended Braden, and an aide says there "is no question" that he'll fight for Braden on the floor.

Braden, a tall, slender former teacher, was Brown's first appointment to the board in 1959. It was cleared by the Senate then without a peep.

But major opposition to the 45-year-old Oceanside newspaper publisher, now in his second year as board president, developed in January shortly after Brown nominated him for a new four-year term.

It snowballed last month when freshman Sen. Jack Schrade, (R-Del Mar), provided a focus for the anti-Braden outcry by announcing he would oppose confirmation.

This immediately raised a serious question since the Senate, by long-established protocol, tends to respect a fellow member's position on an appointee from his home county.

Schrade says he's opposing Braden primarily because of the letters he's received, and because he feels Braden, along with eight other members of the 10-member board, exceeded their authority when they endorsed Dr. Maxwell Rafferty's opponent for superintendent of public instruction in the November election.

Brown first traced the opposition to the John Birch Society, but later said he wasn't sure the Birchers were involved.

Braden blamed Schrade's opposition on Braden's newspaper's refusal to endorse Schrade for the San Diego Senate seat last November.

Later Braden agreed with Brown that the John Birch Society is probably involved.

Schrade emphatically denies that his opposition to Braden has anything to do with Braden's opposition to him. He also says he knows of no organized John Birch opposition, although he does know of several opposing groups which he refuses to name.

Popular opposition is centered around two points, both involving the new look that Rafferty brought to California education.

The first is the state board's dispute with Rafferty over who sets policy for the Department of Education.

The second is a statement Braden made in November opposing indoctrination in public schools.

Throughout his campaign, Rafferty stressed a return to what he called "basic education," and teaching children to understand and respect the great heroes of American history.

"If that's indoctrination," he once said, "I don't understand the meaning of the word."

Braden stirred up hostile reaction when he was widely quoted as saying shortly after Rafferty's election that he felt Rafferty would find the board cooperative if he emphasized toughening up school curricula.

But, he added, "if he comes up with all this stuff about indoctrinating school children in patriotism and the dangers of communism, he's going to incur opposition from us."

Although Braden said a week later that he was not opposed to teaching patriotism or teaching about communism but felt the schools should teach and not propagandize, the remark about indoctrination stuck.

Opposition picked up when Rafferty, breaking with department tradition, announced his support of a controversial bill to change California's present system of textbook selection and give local districts a somewhat bigger voice.

The board had opposed consistently similar bills since 1956.

Rafferty announced he would support it "under all circumstances" without the usual conference among the various division chiefs in the department. He said he wanted the department to support it, too.

That started the dispute over who has the authority to set department policy, a question that has yet to be resolved.

Senate President Pro Tem Hugh M. Burns (D-Fresno), has called for new legislation to clarify the chain of command.

Burns says he feels the law apparently gives policy setting authority to the appointed board, rather than to the elected superintendent. But he said it isn't particularly clear on the matter.

On this point both Braden and Rafferty say their dispute is a friendly one. Assemblyman Jerome Waldie, (D-Antioch), commented that Braden and Rafferty agree on 99 points out of 100, but "the 100th one is who's boss."

But a glance through many of the opposing letters shows many people think the dispute is much more serious. They say, in effect, that Braden, as an appointed official, has no right to disagree with Rafferty, an elected one, who is supposedly closer to the people's point of view.

Braden, father of seven children, is a registered Democrat who describes himself as "in many ways to the right of the Democratic party."

A former assistant to Allen Dulles when Dulles was head of the Central Intelligence Agency, he had a distinguished record in World War II, was a paratrooper in the OSS in Italy and France, and has been an English teacher and assistant to the president of Dartmouth College in New Hampshire.

He was assistant to Gen. William J. Donovan, chairman of the American Committee on United Europe, and is a member of the Council on Foreign Relations.

Early in the dispute Braden said he expected little difficulty in getting confirmation and in getting along with Rafferty.

But he told a news conference recently that "based on what I read in the newspapers, and that's all I know about it, I have some doubts about my confirmation."

He admits he is "puzzled" over the attacks, and said his children have received threatening telephone calls from people who tell them their father is left-wing.

He said he doesn't think he and Rafferty have any differences that can't be resolved "for the good of California's children," and that on or off the board, he plans to work to better California education.

Old Republican Was A Diehard

ATTICA, Kan. (UPI)—Nathaniel Grigsby, 78, died in 1890 and was buried here. His tombstone inscription reads:

"Through this inscription I wish to enter my dying protest against what is called the Democratic party. I have watched it closely since the days of Jackson and know that all the misfortunes of our nation have come to it through this so-called party; therefore, beware of this party of treason."

Grigsby was a Republican.

Building Boom

NEW YORK (UPI) — At least three million acres of land for home construction will be needed between now and 1970, according to Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. About 650 billion dollars will be spent for residential construction on this land before the end of the decade.

Improvements Of Mental Care In County Is Urged

Continuation and improvement of in-county mental care is recommended by the Marin Assn. for Mental Health in a report of an eight-month study of court-ordered mental observations.

Three of the association's seven recommendations were endorsed by the judges of the Marin County Superior Court.

These were that emergency mental facilities be provided in a local general hospital, that a qualified professional screen patients referred by the district attorney's office to avoid unnecessary commitment petitions, and that a central patient index be established to make records on the mentally ill available to the courts and other agencies.

The study was made of 40 court-ordered observations, 17 at Napa State Hospital and 23 at Ross General Hospital's new psychiatric wing, completed last April.

The association recommended that the county agreement with Ross Hospital be continued because of the advantages of local observation. But the report also said facilities at Ross were not sufficient to meet the total need, and added facilities should be provided in the county.

The report also noted a lack of follow-up and outpatient care of mental cases, recommending that this be provided.

The seventh recommendation was for central coordination of various mental health services by one responsible person or agency.

A total of 171 patients from Marin were observed at Ross and Napa during the study period. The cases studied were those in which commitment petitions were signed in the district attorney's office. The study was made by Trude Baum and Charlotte Herrick, and the study committee consisted of Mrs. Richard Ferber, Mrs. Perry Hall, Mrs. Richard Hunter, Mrs. James Norton, and Mrs. F. W. Watland.

The group studied was, in comparison to the whole population, older, more often single, unemployed and of a lower income. Only seven had insurance coverage for mental illness, and 22 had been hospitalized previously for the same ailment.

Twenty of the total were cimmitted to Napa, Ross or Mendocino hospitals. Eight of the cases were dismissed by the court during the eight-month study periods; 12 more were continued by the court but eventually all dismissed.

The researchers found that reports furnished the court by Napa hospital consisted of one or two brief statements, based on brief, half-hour interviews. Ross made complete case histories and social evaluations based on reports by physicians who had seen the patients daily. In cases in which patients did not need hospitalization, Ross made recommendations for alternate care methods. Napa made no recommendations for patients found "not mentally ill."

Ross patients lived an average of six miles from the hospital, while the average for Napa patients was 38 miles from home. Care cost the county $22 per patient more at Ross than at Napa.

Overall costs of observation averaged $142.97 per patient for Napa and $266.61 at Ross, but 10 of the 23 Ross patients paid the hospital or reimbursed the county for all or most of the cost. Net cost to the county was $124.76 at Napa and $147.36 at Ross.

Napa accommodates about 5,000 patients with a staff of 11 certified psychiatrists. Observation patients are put in wards of 70 to 90 patients in charge of one psychiatrist and one psychiatric resident. The ward has a nursing staff of nine.

Ross has 24 beds in his psychiatric wing. Eleven of its staff of 21 psychiatrists are available for court cases. Nine nurses are on duty.

Much travel for all concerned was eliminated by observations at Ross. In some cases court hearings could be held at the hospital.

Psychiatrists who attended the patients could work more closely with the court, the researchers found.

"If the patient's greatest need . . . were merely for a diagnosis indicating whether or not he is 'committable,' " the report concluded, "these benefits (at Ross) might have been considered non-essential." However, it was noted that only about half of referred patients were recommended for continued care.

"The patient's greatest need, then, is for an evaluation of his total situation, leading to . . . appropriate treatment or consultation . . . ," the report stated.

Lighter Has Heavy Price

NEW YORK (UPI) — Another item for that "man who has everything" has been brought to New York by Japanese inventor Taisho Ikeya.

It's what may well be the world's most expensive cigarette lighter—18 karat gold and priced at $500.

Ikeya, vice president of Ichikawa Sangyo Co., Ltd., of Tokyo, said his firm initially produced just 100 of the gas lighters to show Japan can export luxury items as well as the wide range of lower-priced goods shipped here by his company and other Japanese exporters.

The Japanese inventor spent nearly eight years perfecting the lighter, which has a unique ratchet system that adjusts the flame to coordinate with the climate. It operates with a two-part interior automatically changing the fuel into a gas vapor that ignites the moment the switch is flicked.

Farmers Said Amen In Vote

OLYMPIA, Wash. (AP) — Central Washington wheat growers said "Amen."

The Ritzville farmer, Otto Amen by name, was overwhelmingly reelected to the Washington Wheat Commission. He was given 1,275 votes to 138 for his opponent.

Amen represents five counties, in the state's District 4.

Election Items Are Collected

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP)—Arthur C. Schofield looks upon elections like a schoolboy anticipating summer vacation.

Schofield has 6,000 campaign souvenirs from the past. He sets the value of his collection at $10,000.

The collection includes a beribboned George Washington token, one of the oldest items; numerous old newspapers, some dated around 1800; and a vest embroidered with gold bugs in support of William McKinley's gold standard stand.

Schofield, a radio-television station owner, started his collection when he was "just a boy" in Philadelphia.

Chamber Music To End Schubert Fete

Dominican College's Schubert Festival will close tomorrow with an evening of chamber music. It will be presented at 8:30 p.m. in Angelico Hall on the Dominican College campus in San Rafael.

Prominent Bay Area soloists and chamber music players will perform Schubertian solo songs; "An dem Strom," a trio for soprano, French horn and piano, and the "Trout" Quintet for piano, violin, viola, cello and bass.

Margo Blum, mezzo-soprano, will sing several vocal solos. A native of Stockton, Miss Blum launched her professional concert and operatic career after winning the Charles M. Dennis Award and National Federation of Music Clubs and Merola Memorial Operatic auditions.

In the few years since her debut she has appeared with the San Francisco Opera Company, the Portland Symphony, the Dallas Civic Opera and the San Francisco Symphony. She is becoming increasingly well known for solo, oratorio and opera appearances throughout California.

Accompanying Miss Blum will be Alden Gilchrist, pianist, a member of the University of California music faculty, organist at the California Presbyterian Church in San Francisco and frequent Bay Area accompanist.

William Sabatini, French horn player, played first French horn with the San Francisco Symphony under Pierre Monteaux, and is now touring with the "Oliver" musical show.

The "Trout" Quintet will comprise the second half of the program. Pianist Sister Mary Dominic, O.P., is assistant professor of music at Dominican College, and was soloist with the Marin Symphony in a performance last November.

Henry Schweid, violinist, is assistant concertmaster of the San Francisco Symphony and member of the music faculty at Dominican College. Asbjorn Finess, former principal violist at the Norway State Theatre, is now a member of the San Francisco Symphony and Opera orchestras. He also teaches at the San Francisco Conservatory of Music.

Bonnie Hampton, cellist, has been soloist with the San Francisco and Oakland Symphony orchestras, and with the Budapest and Griller string quartets.

Charles Siani, bass, is associate professor of music at San Francisco State College and plays with the San Francisco Symphony orchestra.

SMALL YOUNGSTERS, BIG TREES

Pupils of the Greenbrae School yesterday planted six evergreen ash trees, purchased by the Parent-Teachers Assn., in observance of Conservation Week. First graders of Miss Elva Dughi's class plant a tree in the foreground, with Jimmy Schneider and Deirde Dolan wielding shovels while Jimmy Candrian (left) and James Zink steady the tree. One tree each was planted by kindergarten, three first grades and two second grades.

8 School Candidates Give Views

Improved courses of study, a return to "basics" and unceasing evaluation of education were points emphasized last night by eight candidates running for three positions of the San Rafael Board of Education at their first public appearance together.

Nearly 160 people got heard the candidates give five-minute speeches at a meeting of the Terra Linda High School Parent-Teacher Assn. in the Terra Linda High gymnasium.

All of the candidates—three of them teachers—agreed that the best education and the best teachers possible should be the first concern of San Rafael schools.

The candidates outlned their platforms this way:

C. Paul Bettini, incumbent, San Rafael insurance broker—"I want to continue to develop our education program. As a member of the board for eight years, I have been active in our building of new schools, and I have encouraged teachers' promotions and have recognized their need for salary increases. But I will ask for tax increases only when absolutely necessary."

Paul J. Wata of Santa Venetia, business education teacher at Tamalpais High School—"Curriculum is of first importance. We should improve it by offering courses in statistics, bacteriology, advanced mathematics and physics and foreign languages for lower grade levels. We should eliminate double sessions and get the best teachers for the best salaries. Regarding civil defense, I believe children belong with their parents in case of an emergency. The school should not be a bomb shelter."

L. E. Weisenburg Jr., San Rafael contractor and land developer—"We should have a thorough evaluation of schools to meet our growing needs. We will need more schools and more money. We should evaluate trends and conditions and seek to reduce the cost of land acquisition and school construction so that we can spend our money instead on education. We should get the best teachers to provide the best education for our children."

Dr. D. Gwynn Thomson, Marinwood physician—"We need more work in fundamentals, especially reading. We should stress reading, by phonics, in kindergarten and improve our textbooks. I am for courses such as art and music, but I object to the wasted time spent on remedial courses. We should master the fundamentals in the early grades. Many psychoses develop later as a result of poorly prepared students."

Edythe B. Tait, of San Rafael a former teacher and presently a substitute teacher in Marin County schools—"Reading is our nation's number one school problem. We have more advancements in other subjects but have neglected reading. At the College of Marin, a course in remedial-remedial reading is taught for those who cannot qualify for the remedial course. Non-readers are our high school dropouts, and a direct cause of juvenile delinquency and unemployment. Many of our textbooks are dull and unchallenging. We should emphasize reading and develop the 'humanizing factor' in the child.

Carl J. Brown, of San Rafael, coach at Sir Francis Drake High School — "Many people have asked why a teacher should be on a school board. My answer is that I would have insight into the school itself, which I could pass on to other board members. We should always seek a changing curriculum, with emphasis on individual teaching. We need smaller classes, and we must teach children how to study. We also might add two new 'R's'—respect and responsibility. We should teach our children how to think, and to know right from wrong."

Walter J. Doll, of Marinwood, San Francisco steamship company executive—"As president of the Dixie School board, I have seen progress in our district and a tremendous growth in the past 10 years. We should be conscious of the school-community relationship. There should be confidence among teachers, staff and the school board. And I appreciate the right to disagree. We need district organization studies, and I firmly believe we owe the finest education to children of all abilities."

Frank Parker, of San Rafael, oil company engineer — "The board of education is responsible for a multi-million-dollar business, and we need objective thinking on the board. We need attention to education, planning, finance, new construction, district organization and evaluation of all programs. I am proud of the San Rafael district and am concerned that we have the finest education for all children, within our financial ability."

The audience had a chance to meet candidates later for coffee in the high school cafeteria. Prior to the candidates' speeches, Edwin L. Blackmore, secretary of the Marin County Committee on School District Organization, discussed the legal requirements of unification studies and the background of school organization in Marin.

Missing Rest Home Patient Is Found

Maybel K. Hagar, who left the rest home at 529 Auburn Street, San Rafael, with 52 cents in her pocket, was to be returned to Marin today.

During the 1961-1962 fiscal year, the U.S. Department of Agriculture plant quarantine inspectors stopped 33,033 unwanted plant pests at ports of entry—or one every 16 minutes of the year.

Army Gets No Protests On Plan For Tomales Golden Hinde Boatel

No protests had been filed today with the Army Corps of Engineers against an application for a small boat marina at the Golden Hinde Boatel on Tomales Bay, according to the engineers' district headquarters in San Francisco.

However, no decision will be made on the application by Inverness Properties Inc. until the Army receives a report from the State Lands Commission, which has jurisdiction over tidelands. The Army's authority covers only navigation.

The boatel fronts on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard on the west shore of Tomales Bay, north of Inverness.

The application is for dredging a boat basin to a depth of three feet below mean lower low water with bulkheads along the outer perimeter and a single bulkhead within the enclosed area. Plans call for dredging 8,000 cubic yards of material.

Just As Last Season, Pitching Will Be Key To Giants' Chances

CONNOLLY

PHOENIX—Take it from a couple of oldtimers — repeating as National League Champions isn't going to be a cakewalk for the S.F. Giants.

Two exceptionally capable prognosticians, who have always leaned toward our gang, are shadow boxing, hesitant on being definite, but hopeful they may get up enough courage a little later to be bold.

Babe Pinelli, retired National League umpire, skips rope by saying "whoever beats the Giants will capture the pennant in 1963."

Bill Rigney, former Giant manager, last year the Manager of the Year in the American League is here with his Los Angeles club.

RIG KNOWS where the Giant skeletons are hid and he knows more about each member of the club than he cares to admit. But Rigney is very outspoken. He thinks the S.F. club will repeat.

"They have the horses for the long haul required in a 162-game schedule," Rig was explaining. "Of course they need all the power they've got because most National League clubs have better balance than last year."

Rig, who had a few jousts with Orlando Cepeda, speaks very highly of his former player. Orlando, according to Rigney, has to be rated among the first ten hitters in the game today. Having rested last winter, Rig looks for Orlando to enjoy one of his best years since becoming a pro.

There is an under current here that Giant pitching is the only vulnerable department. Every pitcher has to come back to the 1962 form and a couple others in the relief department have to improve greatly before the music starts to play "we win again."

ONE MAJOR league scout, who was a great pitcher in his day, remarks that the Giants had better be prepared to fortify their staff.

"I think you scribes butter up the Giants a little too much. You over-rate them. For instance, Jack Fisher was in 32 games last year, pitched a total of 152 innings and has an earned run average per game of 5.09. That means Fisher pitched a little over 4 innings a game. It isn't impressive because Fisher hurt his arm and was out quite a spell and he was on a row-racked outfit.

In perusing Billy Hoeft's record in 1962, I get goose pimples from fright. He took part in 57 games, pitched only 114 innings for a 4.58 earned run tab, averaging 2 innings for each appearance. That's bad sauerkraut, brother.

Don Larsen, in 49 games pitched a total of 86 innings, an earned run average of 4.39 per game. Each time he relieved he went for an average of 2 frames.

JIM DUFFALO, in 24 games pitched a total of 42 innings and a 3.66 earned run average. His work each time out averaged less than 2 innings per try.

Bob Bolin in 41 games went for a total of 92 innings, an earned run mark of 3.62 and stuck around each time he pitched for an average of less than 3 innings.

Bob Garibaldi pitched in nine games for a total of 12 innings and an earned run average of better than 5 runs per game.

If Juan Marichal, Billy O'Dell, Billy Pierce and Jack Sanford have any sort of an IBM mark, "The Big Four" might be consistently good. For instance, Marichal completed 18 games, pitcher 263 innings in 37 games for a 3.32 earned run tag.

O'DELL went to the post 43 times, pitched 281 innings, completed 20 games for an earned run mark of 3.53.

Pierce, in 30 games completed seven, pitched 162 innings and won 16 and lost six for an earned run average of 3.48.

Sanford won 24 games, pitched 266 innings, completed 13 games for an earned run average of 3.43.

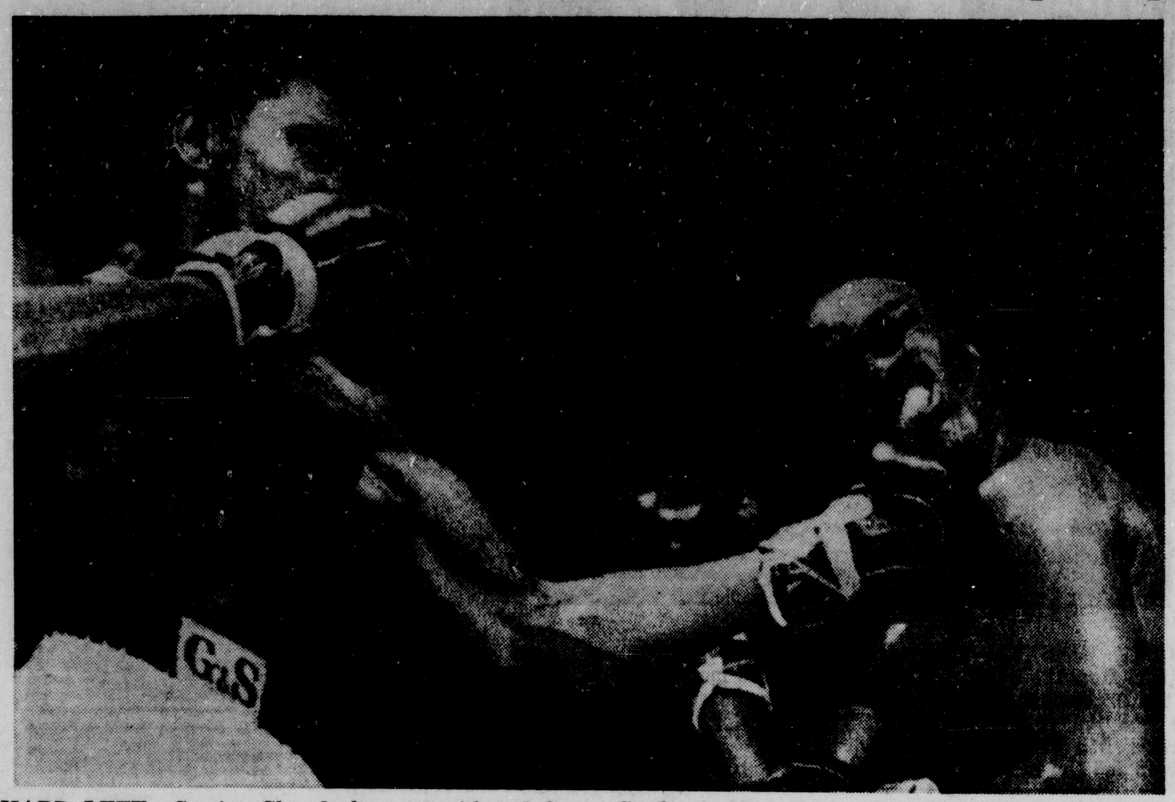

To have a really impressive pitching staff, the Giants must repeat as of 1962. Any of the Big Four could collapse and I've just shown you how the relief horses went last year, which isn't at all good.

IN HIS only start so far, Fisher looked like a savvy guy on the mound. He's young and strong and maybe this year will be his big break. He'll be tickled to have guys behind him like Cepeda, Mays, Alou, McCovey and the rest who specialize in driving in and scoring runs. At Baltimore he had a misfit, disgruntled gang, who staggered and finally fell to pieces.

But unless Bolin, Duffalo, Hoeft and Larsen can become expert rescuers, the Giants have to admit they're vulnerable in the big spot—the pitching staff.

The Giants have a really great bumper crop of good young pitchers but if they can't pitch, they're apt to become seedy and shifty and wind up pitching hay someplace else.

Cassius Clay Wins Unpopular Decision

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK (AP)—Even in victory the Cassius Clay balloon has been punctured. The self-proclaimed "greatest heavyweight" is just human after all.

There were no knockouts, no knockdowns, no "total annihilation," and brash Cassius was lucky to get a thin, lustily booed decision in 10 rounds over hardworking Doug Jones of New York at Madison Square Garden last night.

At times Clay looked like a novice both at long range and inside. His bombs didn't explode. And he had to rally furiously in the final two rounds to capture the unanimous verdict.

WANTS LISTON

As for Liston, Clay is no more ready for him this year than Floyd Patterson was in the second minute of his title debacle last Sept. 25. Yet the undaunted Clay said he wanted that "big, ugly bear Liston within six months."

"Clay showed me that I'll get locked up for murder if we're ever matched," was the comment of Liston who saw the closed circuit telecast in Miami Beach.

But at 21, 6-foot-3, 202½ pounds and undefeated, the unmuffled Louisville Lip still has a bright fistic future ahead of him even if he has sworn off poetic predictions.

JOHANSSON?

Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of the Garden wants to put Clay and Jones in Yankee Stadium this June and there was talk also of a lucrative international fight with Sweden's Ingemar Johansson, the former heavyweight champion.

There were cries of "fake" and "fix" by some of the pro-Jones fans in the capacity crowd of 18,732 seconds after the unanimous decision was announced. Varied objects were tossed into the ring by irate fans.

Judges Artie Aidala and Frank Forbes had the same 5-4-1 scores while referee Joe LeScalze, on his first important assignment, made it 8-1-1 in rounds for Clay.

The Associated Press card had Jones ahead, 5-4-1. A sample check of boxing writers on the four sides of the ring showed a 7-5 edge for Clay with calling it even.

"From now on no more predictions of what round I'm going to finish my opponent," said Cassius. "People are so hypocritical." He had predicted "Jones will fall in four."

The fight produced the first boxing sellout—$104,943 gross gate — in the Garden in six years, and purses of about $90,000 for Clay and $75,000 for Jones including the closed circuit television.

"They came to see me whipped," Clay said. "They hated to see me keep winning. I hit Jones twice as much as he hit me. That's why they were upset."

Jones, almost a forgotten man in Clay's prefight buildup, said "I thought I won it no worse than 6-3-1. I don't think much of him. He never hurt me, and I know I hurt him at least a couple of times."

The 6-foot, 188-pound New Yorker came close to ending Clay's all-winning record early in the first round. Clay, holding his hands low as usual, leaned his head back as Jones came in and was nailed by a right to the jaw. Cassius wobbled for a moment and the fans let loose with a tremendous roar. But Clay held on and got out of trouble.

Jones, whose reach is six inches shorter than Clay's, moved in close to rock his taller rival again in the fourth and seventh rounds. And through the first eight rounds Clay was trailing on the cards of the two judges.

Cassius did nothing inside. His long range jabs and combinations often were short and many of them were blocked. But in the ninth round he opened up with a series of furious barrages. He kept the spurt going in the tenth to squeeze out the verdict.

It was Clay's 18th straight victory but his latest kayo streak ended at nine. He has scored 14 knockouts in all.

PHILLIES BUY RYNE DUREN FROM ANGELS

MESA, Ariz. (AP) — Ryne Duren, whose fast ball sometimes leaves hitters looking almost as blind as he is, moves from the American to the National League today.

And if Manager Bill Rigney of the Los Angeles Angels is right, the National Leaguers "are about to see something special.

The Angels sold the weak-eyed, 34-year-old relief pitcher to the Philadelphia Phillies yesterday for slightly more than the $20,000 waiver price.

Rigney said it was "one of the toughest decision I ever had to make."

"I have enjoyed this fellow," Rigney said, "and I respected his ability. He's been a big part of the fine spirit of this club."

Last season Duren had a 2-9 record and a 4.44 earned run average but he was wild.

Redwood Swim Team Loses

Redwood High School's swim team lost to Santa Rosa Tuesday, varsity 59-36, and Class B 63-23.

Redwood varsity winners were:

Don Keller, 200-yard freestyle, 2:06.9; 400-yard freestyle, 4:34.8; Larry Herst, 50-yard freestyle, 25.2; Bill Anderson, 100-yard freestyle, 55.6; 200-yard freestyle relay (Anderson, Hogrefe, Von Borstel and Herst) 1:40.9.

Giants Win Again As Cubs Fall, 3-2

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Willie Mays, the 1962 National League home run king for the San Francisco Giants, is only batting .182 in spring exhibition games.

Mays went 0-for-3 yesterday in Mesa where the Giants defeated the Chicago Cubs, 3-2.

The Giants were scheduled for a game here today against the Cleveland Indians.

The Cubs and the Giants used 41 players in a typical Cactus League frolic that was distinguished only by the low score.

Felipe Alou and rookie Danny Markowski slammed homers for the Giants. Herb Newman lost one for the Cubs.

Cub Ernie Banks collected two hits in three attempts and boosted his spring average to .467, which will make a few opposing pitchers wish Banks had won instead of lost in his campaign to be a Chicago alderman, and stayed at his post. His hitting this spring also indicates the slender first baseman may be over his eye troubles.

Orlando Cepeda will arrive in Phoenix Saturday, one day later than he promised after approving his 1963 Giant contract plans. Plane reservation snags caused the delay.

Juan Marichal, last holdout to capitulate, showed up weighing only 191 pounds, a mere six pounds over his playing weight. The Dominican right-hander was reported up around the 220 mark during his homeland holdout.

Ed Clinton Rolls 300 In League

Ed Clinton, a youthful left-handed bowler, rolled the first 300 game in Marin league competition in 17 years as he made bowling history at Nave Lanes last night.

Clinton, 23, rolled his perfect game during the Marin Masters League on his last game of the three-game series. He had rolled 201 and 210 in the first games and then hit his "big one" which boosted his night's series total to 711.

Ed was rolling on lanes 13 and 14 by the time he had reached the ninth frame he had the bowlers on the other 30 lanes watching in awe.

When he threw his 12th and final ball there was complete silence in the lanes as all other keglers were crowding around lanes 13 and 14 to watch Clinton in his perfect effort.

Then the silence was broken by the crashing sound of the ball smashing into the pins on a perfect hit. There was no hesitation as the pins scattered, and there was no hesitation in the crowd which sounded and cheered their congratulations.

Clinton, who is a clerk at Bob's Grocery Store in Sausalito, received a $100 check from Nave Lanes after the feat.

Seals Fall To Seattle Hockeymen

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Guyle Fielder boosted his lead in the Western Hockey League scoring race five points last night as he led the Seattle Totems to a 6-4 win over San Francisco.

Fielder, who has a list of honors won and records set longer than his hockey stick, was credited with four assists and scored one goal unassisted. He now leads the league with 87 points.

Another one-man show was put on by Portland's Arnie Schmautz, who scored four goals—three of them in the second period, as the Buckaroos beat Edmonton 8-1.

Spokane overcame a Los Angeles jinx to down the Blades 5-4 in the only other league game of the night.

San Francisco took a 3-2 lead in the first period, but Seattle scored three goals in the second while shutting out the Seals. Danny Belisle's second goal of the game cut the margin to 5-4, but Fielder fired into an empty net for Seattle's insurance tally. Bob Barlow and Gordon Sinclair each scored twice for Seattle. The win left the Totems tied with Vancouver for the Northern Division lead.

Portland scored the only goal of the first period, but erupted for five in the second to break the game open. Schmautz' three gave him his second hat trick of the season. His fourth goal came with only one second of play remaining.

Who Will Replace Kuharich At ND?

Kuharich's resignation was announced by the university yesterday and at the same time freshman coach Hugh Devore was named "interim coach for 1963."

As to Kuharich's ultimate successor, that will be tossed around until possibly after the 1963 season and no name probably will be more prominent than that of Duffy Daugherty of Michigan State.

Kuharich quit to take a job with the National Football League as supervisor of NFL officials, replacing Mike Wilson, who is retiring at 66.

The 46-year-old Kuharich, with four years to run on his present contract, had a 17-21 record at Notre Dame after succeeding Terry Brennan in 1958.

Devore, 52, has bounced around from Notre Dame to other colleges back to Notre Dame to professional coaching and again back to Notre Dame for 30 years. He also served as interim coach in 1945 and came up with a 7-2-1 record.

Cuban Finds Refuge In Marin —But No One Will Hire Him

REFUGE, BUT NO WORK — Francisco Anaya and wife, Elena, of Corte Madera read letter from Miami, written by a fellow refugee from Cuba. The Anayas chose Marin as a place of refuge, but the choice has proved unproductive of a livelihood for the former Cuban business executive. (Independent-Journal photo)

By PHIL FRADKIN

A 51-year-old Cuban refugee, a former executive in a Cuban utility company, has been unable to find work in the country he chose since he and his family fled the "oppression" in his homeland.

Francisco Anaya of 346 Corte Madera Avenue, Corte Madera, said of his experiences seeking work through employment agencies and private concerns. "My age seems to be a handicap."

Anaya, along with his wife, Elena, and 26-year-old daughter and her 4-year-old son, Alfred, came to Marin County last October. Their trip from Miami was sponsored by the Redwood Presbyterian Church of Larkspur.

Since then, Anaya's daughter, also named Elena, has been the sole financial support of the family. She has been working since November in a San Francisco travel agency.

In Havana, Anaya was head of the cost accounting department of Cuban Electric Co., which was to Cuba what Pacific Gas and Electric Co. is to California.

After Castro took over the American-owned utility company, the "brain washing" began, according to Anaya. Where before soft music used to play through the loudspeakers in the electric company's modern building, political speeches were heard.

Anaya said: "One of the first steps after Castro took over was the order for longer hours of work without overtime." In addition, some workers were ordered out in the fields to cut sugar cane.

Anaya, a graduate of a Havana business school and 25-year employee of the utility company, decided to leave Cuba after Castro set up neighborhood committees "to watch people."

Anaya, who speaks English fairly well, explained: "I wanted to be sure we left the country before this man completely suppressed the people. I was afraid if we stayed much longer it would be impossible to leave."

He arrived in Miami on Oct. 31, 1960, one month after sending his family over by plane. "In Miami it was difficult to find a place to live and work. It was very crowded."

To prepare himself for finding a job, Anaya took a 240-hour course in hotel office procedures in the adult education program offered by the Dade County Public Schools.

"This is the field I would most like to explore," he said.

Novato Toastmasters Program Set Tonight

The Novato Toastmaster's Club will present a program before the Novato Junior Chamber of Commerce at 7:30 p.m. today in Cloud Five Restaurant, Novato.

The program will be a condensed version of a typical Toastmasters meeting, according to Fred Bolding, toastmaster president.

The 1962 hurricane roster list is: Alma, Becky, Celia, Daisy, Ella, Flossy, Freta, Hallie, Inez, Judith, Kendra, Lois, Marsha, Noreen, Orpha, Patty, Rena, Sherry, Thora, Vicky and Wilna.

Mt. Carmel Fund Drive Well On Way

The drive for a minimum goal of $250,000 to build a new church for Mount Carmel Parish in Mill Valley is well on its way, with a total $175,250 collected to date.

Campaign workers, meeting Tuesday night at Mount Carmel School, reported a total of $52,000 collected in the first week of the general phase of the drive. This is with 850 calls made and 350 still to go.

The earlier, memorial phase raised $127,250.

Campaign director Henry F. Gallagher reported that workers will meet again Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the school. "We hope all calls will be completed by then, and our minimum goal surpassed," he said.

Talk To Moose

Robert H. Mollohan, former congressman from West Virginia and supreme junior governor of the Loyal Order of Moose, will address a class of new Novato Moose Lodge members at 3 p.m. Sunday at Druids' Hall in Novato, announced Harry Hetrick, governor of the Novato lodge.

Outstanding Tomales High Students Named

Joan, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Gearhart of Point Reyes Station, won the honor for her scholarship and activities. She has been a member of the California Scholarship Federation for six semesters. She has served as secretary-treasurer of the junior class, secretary-treasurer and vice president of CSF. She is co-editor of the school annual and has served as librarian for three years.

Merissa, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Werner Tobler of Tocaloma, has also been a member of CSF for six semesters and has served as secretary-treasurer and president of the organization.

She now is president of the band. In her sophomore year she was named outstanding member of the band and last year was co-winner of the marching award.

Tryouts For Play

The Sausalito Little Theater will hold tryouts next Tuesday and Wednesday for Anton Chekov's "The Cherry Orchard," which will open May 24 at the theater at 745½ Bridgeway, Sausalito. Robert White will direct the play.

REVIVING A TRADITION

The Sunny Hills Junior Auxiliary re-established a tradition of "Around The World" luncheons and style showings yesterday with a gathering at the Meadow Club. Here Mrs. Leland Murphy treads the style path among the guests, as the members previewed fashions for spring and summer under a fishy decor illustrating the Oriental theme of the day. The luncheons were begun in 1949 and continued until a few years ago, now revived because of their popularity.

Mathematics Program Topic For Tam High P-TA Tuesday

"The Five Ws of the New Mathematics Program" is the subject Tamalpais High School's Robert Prather will discuss at the Tuesday meeting of the Parent-Teacher Assn.

It will be held at 8 p.m. in Ruby Scott Auditorium. Sid Duddy, Ed McClellan and Dick Newman of the mathematics department will talk on the "who, why, when, where and what" of present day mathematics trends.

Newman and McClellan will describe specific changes in the fields of algebra and geometry, respectively.

Club To Hold Lenten Luncheon

The Rainbow Sewing Club will hold a Lenten dish luncheon on March 22 from 11 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Odd Fellows Hall, San Rafael. Mrs. James Williams is in charge of the event.

Proceeds from the luncheon will go to Easter treats for the Odd Fellows Home and to the Eye Bank.

Jane Francis To Be Bride In June Rite

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Francis of Sleepy Hollow are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Jane Elizabeth, to Ronald James Eipp, son of Mrs. Maxine Whitley of San Anselmo and the late Paul P. Eipp of San Jose.

The bride-elect is the sister of Mrs. Robert H. Johnson of Novato. Her grandmothers Mrs. Roy B. Francis and Mrs. James B. Hoffar reside in Vancouver, British Columbia. The Francis family moved to Marin from Canada three years ago. Jane will be graduated from Sir Francis Drake High School in June.

The future bridegroom is the brother of Paul P. Eipp Jr. of San Rafael and Mrs. Fred N. Daniels of Rafael Meadows.

The wedding will be an event of June 22.

Nancy Jenkines, Joe Stern Honored At Dinner Party

By FLORENCE DONNELLY

Nancy Jenkines and Joseph Stern, who will be married April 2 at Stewart Memorial Chapel at the San Francisco Theological Seminary in San Anselmo, were honored at a family dinner party given by her aunt, Mrs. John MacPhail (Ruth Jenkines) at the MacPhail home in Loch Lomond Sunday. Guests were members of both families, Nancy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Jenkines of San Rafael and grandmother, Mrs. Sadie Slausen, Joe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Stern of San Rafael and his grandmother, Mrs. Marguerite Grandjean, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. George Goodrich Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Jack MacPhail, Miss Joanne Boileau, who will be Nancy's maid of honor, and Neil MacPhail.

Joanne gave a brunch and pantry shower at the San Rafael home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Boileau for the bride-elect. Guests were Joanne's mother, Nancy's mother and Joe's mother, also Mrs. Stanley Borges, Mrs. Clyde McGowan and Eleanor Scanlon, Marilyn Otringer, Jean Thomas and Diane Jelly.

The 2 p.m. wedding will be followed by a reception at Marin Golf Club.

At the reception were Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Gillman, parents of Mrs. Groff, Mrs. Alice Johnson, mother of John, Lt. and Mrs. N. E. Groff, recently arrived from Japan, and their children, Kurtis, Kevin and Noelle; Mrs. E. A. Ellis and Mrs. E. M. Stratton, great-grandmothers of Shelise; Mrs. S. Nutto and daughter, Christine; Mrs. C. N. Stratton, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Gillman, Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Volker, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tibbott and E. F. Manti.

MRS. ELAINE ERLANGER of Ross is home following a six weeks cruise on the Monterey. She went to Hawaii, Tahiti, New Zealand and Sydney, Australia.

MRS. HAZEL BAXTER of San Rafael has returned from an exciting 10 months in Europe. She sailed on a Norwegian ship and went along the coast line to Bergen and saw the largest fishing village in Norway, Alesund. She bought a car and with her hostess, Mrs. Ingvald Pedersen, toured all the Scandinavian countries, Liechtenstein, Germany, and drove along the Rhine to Bad Homburg, which was former President Eisenhower's favorite German city; went to Strasbourg, returned to Liechtenstein where Hazel left her car. She flew to Zurich, Switzerland and went over the Alps to Italy, stopped in northern Italy and went to Venice, Florence and Rome.

Hazel flew back to Norway and drove along the coast of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, where she visited Odense and saw the home of Hans Christian Anderson. Hazel drove down to Italy and stopped at Portofino, which she said reminded her of Sausalito. She went back to Rome where she met a Swedish woman, who went with her along the Mediterranean coast and to the Italian and French Riviera and Paris then to Germany and Denmark.

In Riba Hazel saw nine stork nests. The storks go to Africa for the winter and return to their same nests in Denmark. They leave their nests in the middle of August to return to Africa. Both in Denmark and Sweden Hazel saw the gossip mirrors. Mirrors about four by five inches are hung outside the windows so that the residents can see what is going on in the street. Hazel ferried from Bergen to Newcastle and visited a friend in Liverpool for four days. She went by train through England, returned to Alesund where she sold her car. Hazel went back to England where she sailed from Southampton aboard the Queen Mary to New York. Before she returned home Hazel went to Washington, D.C., to see Mrs. Fred Blanco whose parents had entertained Hazel when she was in Norway.

Psychiatrist To Lead School Discussion On Development

"Personal Stresses which Influence the Child's Development" will be discussed at the annual meeting of parents of the Tamalpais Nursery School on March 19. The school is a non-profit community service in Mill Valley.

Discussion leader will be Dr. John J. Preisinger, psychiatrist of San Francisco and Mill Valley, whose two elder sons are enrolled in morning sessions.

The school will be open for inspection at 7:30 p.m. when the trustees will serve coffee. Mrs. Joseph Bare Jr., retiring president, will open the meeting at 8 p.m. The public is invited to visit the school and participate in the discussion.

To be nominated to the board of trustees for two-year terms are Mesdames James Canepa, Arthur Bickford, Robert Dagley and David Golay.

New Members For Branch

Five women have joined the Mill Valley Branch of the American Assn. of University Women since January, announced Mrs. Russell E. Wallace, first vice president and membership chairman.

The five are Mesdames Thomas E. Allen, Donald W. Cantin, Elgar R. Hill, and John R. Lee and Dr. Marietta Houston. They hold degrees respectively from Whitman College, the University of Connecticut, Whittier College, the University of Redlands, and Indiana University.

Membership in the branch now comprises graduates of 76 of the colleges and universities appearing on the AAUW-approved list, Mrs. Wallace reports.

TAKING A COOKIE BREAK

It's that time again and E. W. Bullard Jr. selects a cookie from the five varieties offered by the Girl Scouts for their annual sale opening tomorrow. "Saleswomen" are Prue Brown and Bullard's daughter, Esther, who called on him at the office—the E. D. Bullard Co. in Sausalito. Cookie sale chairman Mrs. R. W. Morgan said that the sales will continue throughout the county, with funds earmarked to supplement funds received from United Crusade—about 45 per cent of the Marin Council budget—and to maintain the Sierraville camp and Arequipa. Want Quiet Dinner Topic In Spokane? Don't Mention P-TA

SPOKANE, WASH. (UPI)— If you're looking for a quiet topic for after dinner conversation in Spokane, try politics or religion, but forget about the P-TA. It may break up the party in verbal fireworks.

The Parent-Teacher Assn. has become a center of controversy and the object of a revolt.

Where it once was a matter of course for parents of school children to band together and join up with the National Congress of Parents and Teachers as a local P-TA, such a decision these days is far from routine. At the last school where the subject came up, one father invited another outside and a staunch P-TA backer used the word "communist" in taunting his opponents.

THE LATTER ACTION was credited with a 63-41 vote by which parents at Franklin Elementary School voted to disband their Parent-Teacher Assn. and form an independent parent-teacher group. The vote made Franklin the city's fifth elementary school to have an independent parents' group unaffiliated with P-TA. Sacajawea Junior High parents also joined the ranks of the independents when the school opened two and a half years ago.

More P-TA units inside Spokane and at nearby communities are reported considering a break with the state and national organization. Several smaller towns have had unaffiliated groups as long as 30 years. At one rural school recently the parents voted to stay with P-TA.

BUT IT'S A safe bet that the battle will be joined again when the new Ferris High School opens next fall. And there are rumors that the question will be faced at Lewis and Clark High School in two years after long time Principal A. L. Parker retires. L&C is the only high school on the South Side, where all but one of the current parent-teacher groups are located. Ferris will serve the same area, largely one of better income families.

The Parent-Teacher Group got its start here in 1955 when Hamblen Grade School opened. Norman Wilson, an insurance man who was one of the leaders in forming that initial group, said the parents decided to spend their money for things the new school needed. He said 45 cents from each P-TA member's dues was diverted for city, state and national councils.

DISCUSSING THE success of the independent groups, Wilson said, "People have become aware that leaders of the P-TA are abusing this leadership by assuming they have the power of attorney to speak for the entire membership in legislative matters and the people don't like this at all."

The old and influential P-TA —which still has 67 units here —seemed inclined to ignore the upstart independents until 1960 when big Sacajawea opened and the question of organizing a parents group arose.

PTG members claimed the P-TA came prepared to railroad through formation of a P-TA unit. But Mrs. John Vennema Jr., president of the Spokane P-TA council, whose son was then a Sacajawea student, indicated it was a two-way railroad.

"I WAS THE parent who was told to sit down and shut up," she recalled.

Although her two daughters are now Sacajawea students, Mrs. Vennema has not joined PTG. Wilson, with a son at Lewis and Clark, said he contributes to the library fund but will not join P-TA. Many other parents, however, belong to a P-TG at one school and a P-TA at another.

Mrs. Vennema, while deploring the P-TG movement, takes a comparatively mild attitude toward the rebels. One of her main concerns is the loss to community-wide leadership of "some wonderful people."

SHE ADDED, "There isn't anything a P-TG can do that the P-TA can't do too and we do more. . . . Our concern as interested parents must reach farther than the walls of our own schools."

Greenbrae P-TA Names New Officers

Mrs. Robert S. Milmoe, a former teacher, was elected president of Greenbrae School Parent-Teacher Assn. at the group's meeting last night. She previously served as first and second vice president and chairman of room mothers for the school P-TA. Last month she was honored with a life membership in P-TA for her service to the organization and youth of the school community. Mrs. Milmoe also founded the school's library.

Other officers elected last night to serve with her are David Simonds, first vice president; Edward Allen, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Bauer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Horace Fritz, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Vogel, treasurer; Wayland Bonbright, auditor, and Mrs. James Egger, historian.

Living At Home Can Hamper College Life For Young Gal

(Q) "I'm a freshman at a university in the town where we live. Every day my mother expects me home within an hour after my last class. She has some idea that nice girls don't linger around the campus. How can I get her to realize that lots of perfectly legitimate activities go on after school and I'm missing them? I don't feel like I'm going to college at all."

MISS B. A.

(A) One of the disadvantages of living at home while attending college is the one you describe. Too many students go home without becoming involved in the extra-curricular college life of putting out the school newspaper, attending drama rehearsals, sports rallies, service club meetings, etc. Perhaps your mother doesn't understand the activities you're interested in. Show her the notice in the paper of the meeting for which you want to stay late. Fill her in completely on what was said and done after you get home. Invite her and your father to plays, concerts and other evening activities on campus. Always give her an estimate of the time she can expect you home. Then keep your word, or phone to explain. It may seem confining to you, but remember your mother is anxious for your welfare. She'll soon realize the extra time you spend on campus is all part of your college education.

(Q) "I want a car for this summer. I've saved my money all year just so I could get this jalopy. Now my dad says you think a car hurts a fellow's grades. For Pete's sake, where did you get that idea? Will you set him straight?"

P. N.

(A) Sorry, son. He quoted me correctly. All studies I've seen on this subject definitely show a drop in grades when a boy has his own car. In addition, I have received countless letters from parents bemoaning their decision to let their sons have cars. If your grades are satisfactory now, you have a driver's license and you've acted with responsibility on other occasions, perhaps your father will let you use the family car. Wait until you are out of school for the jalopy.

Three-Day Sale Is Set By Church

A three day rummage and bake sale has been scheduled April 4, 5 and 6 at Wesley Hall, Sycamore and East Blithedale in Mill Valley with funds earmarked for the Assembly of God Church building fund.

Each sale day from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. members of the Women's Missionary Council will offer home baked goods and clothing and other articles.

MAY 5 is the wedding date set for the marriage of Wallace A. Hayes of Mill Valley and Evelyn Demattei, whose engagement has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Demattei of Daly City. (Don Faulkner photo)

Evelyn Demattei Will Marry Wallace A. Hayes On May 18

Engagement of Evelyn Demattei of Daly City to Wallace A. Hayes of Mill Valley has been announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Demattei of Daly City.

Wallace, or Arleigh as he is better known, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace Hayes of Mill Valley.

The bride-elect was graduated from high school in Daly City and is employed as a secretary in San Francisco. She attended a modeling school; has done professional modeling, and was chosen Snow Queen last year by Bay Area ski clubs. She has a brother, James, and a sister, Gloria.

The future bridegroom was graduated from Tamalpais High School and attended the College of Marin. He is employed in the Industrial Division of Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. in San Francisco.

He has three sisters, Janet, Nancy and Carole Hayes, all of Mill Valley.

The young couple will be married on May 18 at the Holy Angels Church in Daly City.

MRS. FULLICK

President Of Pixie Parents Enjoys The Arts

Art history and painting are continuing interests of Forest Knolls resident Mrs. Geoffrey W. Fullick, who heads the Pixie Parents organization this year.

JUDY FULLICK served the organization as secretary last year and has been a member for three years. She and her husband, an advertising specialist in visual aides, are parents of a son, Brian, 5, and a daughter, Allison Louise, 1. A graduate of the University of California in art history, Judy has been a Marin resident for 15 years. She serves as a foster parent for the county when needed, and devotes spare time to enjoying literature and music.

ACTIVITIES SHE notes for the Pixie Parents organization this year include the upcoming Easter egg hunt and fair April 3 and 4 at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross, a membership tea in September and a fashion show in December. She has announced also that birthday party areas at the Marin Art and Garden Center are available for rental through Pixie Parents organization.

BPWC To Fete New Members At Tea Sunday

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Marin County will honor new members at a tea on Sunday at 3 o'clock in the Fairfax home of Viola Gottschalk, president.

New members include Beatrice Bell, Ada Bottini, Fay Cotter, Alice Duff, Jane Forster, Sally Gray, Della Holloway and Ruth Seibert.

Serving will be Esther Homiller and Katheryn Keaton.

President To Attend Delta Gamma Lunch

The founders day luncheon and meeting of the Marin County Delta Gamma Alumnae Assn. at Peacock Gap Golf and Country Club at noon March 21, with Mrs. Kenneth P. Groves, international president of the Delta Gamma Fraternity, as the honored guest.

Mrs. Groves is a University of British Columbia graduate and registered nurse who resides in Vancouver with her physician husband and three college-age children.

New officers of Delta Gamma who will be installed at the luncheon are Mesdames Donald Lamp of Tiburon, president; Raye Murray of Mill Valley, vice president; Russell Baker of Kentfield, secretary; David Cook of Sausalito, treasurer; John Degenhardt of San Rafael, recommendations chairman; Alan H. Clarke of Mill Valley, publicity chairman; H. Nordmark Williams of Belvedere, Panhellenic representative; and James W. Fahrner of San Rafael, hospitality chairman.

This year will mark the 90th birthday of Delta Gamma, a social organization whose major projects are sight conservation and aid to the blind, international education, and grants and loans to individuals studying and teaching visually handicapped children.

The projects of the Marin County group are financial aid and volunteer work for Guide Dogs for the Blind and contributions to the Ivan Fund, a project financed by Delta Gamma to provide home care for blind children with psychological problems.

Joy Adamson Urges Help For Animals

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—A lioness named Elsa brought fame to Joy Adamson. Now, Mrs. Adamson, who wrote of the family pet, hopes that earnings because of that fame will help preserve Elsa's cousins and other animals of the African jungles and bush country.

"In three years, at the rate things are going, there won't be any lion population," she said. "Poaching, land developments without moving the animal population to new country, a shortage of male lions . . . all are taking their toll.

"Yet jungle creatures have a right to live . . . must live, if we are to keep the balance of nature."

Mrs. Adamson is on a lecture tour of England, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries and a limited series of appearances in the United States to talk about Elsa and the animal and plant life in Kenya.

HER HUSBAND, George, for nearly 30 years was game warden in the preserve along Kenya's northern frontier. Now, he has retired to help promote large-scale projects to protect Africa's wild life.

Elsaw as a cub with her eyes still closed when she came to the Adamsons. Mrs. Adamson recalled that her husband in self-defense shot the mother when she charged. Later, when he found there cubs (the two others eventually went to zoos), he knew why the lioness had charged . . . she thought her infants were in danger.

Elsa became a pet—"more than that," said Mrs. Adamson, in an interview. "She was a member of the family. She shared in everything with us." She also became the heroine of a best-selling book called "Born Free."

ELSA PRODUCED three cubs—Jespah, Gopa and Little Elsa—who have been moved to Serengiti national park in Tanganyika. The Adamsons hoped that there, in a preserve, Elsa's progeny would be safe, but are not sure—they haven't seen the cubs in more than a year although they often are on safari hoping to sight them.

Elsa died not too long after the book about her was published. Mrs. Adamson said a post-mortem showed she was a victim of a tick-borne parasite which destroyed red corpuscles. "So animal scientists discovered another enemy of the lion population," she said.

The story of the Cubs' early months was told in a sequel called "Living Free," and now in more detail, a third book soon is to be published called "Forever Free."

De Gaulle Faces Serious Labor Problem

By JOSEPH W. GRIGG

PARIS (UPI)—The strike wave now sweeping France has presented the most serious challenge yet to President Charles de Gaulle's authority.

It very well could mushroom into the most dangerous domestice crisis he has faced.

It started at the beginning of March with what was to have been merely a "token" two-day walkout by the 200,000 workers in the nationalized coal mining industry to press demands for wage increases.

But the government reacted toughly. In a decree signed by de Gaulle himself, it requisitioned the miners.

Requisitioning of workers in state-run French industries is equivalent to drafting them into the armed services. Failure to comply is punishable with loss of jobs and pensions, fines and prison sentences.

Most Frenchmen now agree the requisitioning was a major psychological blunder. It infuriated the labro unions. Instead of knuckling under, all three—Catholic, Socialist and Communist unions—order the strike to go on indefinitely in defiance of the order.

There is strong popular support in the country for the miners, whose wages have lagged considerably behind those of workers in private industry.

The strike now has spread to workers in the nationalized gas, electricity, natural gas, iron mining and railroad industries, who also have their own wage claims to press.

All told, about 700,000 workers in state-run industry are affected in sympathy walkouts of indefinite or limited duration. There are signs the unrest may spread to private industry too.

The miners, whose monthly pay averages only about $130, are demanding an immediate 11 per cent boost. The government has offered only 5.77 per cent, spread over the whole year.

The government fears that if it caves in, it will open the sluice gates to a torrent of wage increases that could only undermine the French economy and the stability of the new "hard" Gaullist franc.

The government has not yet tried to enforce the requisition order. If it does so, by arresting key workers for refusal to comply, the unions almost certainly will call a nationwide general strike.

Close associates say de Gaulle is itching for a showdown. They say he will precipitate it in about two weeks when the nation begins to feel seriously the pinch of coal, gas and electricity shortages.

They say he hopes this will put public opinion behind him when he tries to break the labor unions.

But it remains to be seen whether the "strong man" methods which have served de Gaulle well in the national field will be equally successful in a home front showdown.

After all, this is the first real labor front crisis de Gaulle has faced.

Open Window Wasn't There

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — William R. Rhodes of North Little Rock, Ark., found out it doesn't pay to keep your car windows too clean.

Rhodes was riding through Tucson when he flipped a match out a window he thought was open. He didn't notice the window was closed and the match bounced into the back seat.

Rhodes suffered minor burns on his hand and the fire did $1,500 damage to his car.

Alamo Airconditioned

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI) — The Alamo was never like this when Davey Crockett fought in in it. Now a shrine, the Alamo has been airconditioned.

No Twisting In Red China

HONG KONG (AP)—Communist China endorses social dancing but condemns the twist as "unwholesome."

In a reply to a reader inquiry, the Communist newspaper Nan Fang Jih Pao in Canton said, "Dancing is proper amusement but this does not apply to those who use dancing parties as a pretext to perform such unwholesome dances as the twist. Such practices should be corrected."

Something's Down

WILLARD, Ohio (UPI) — So you think the price of everything has gone up? Pioneer Rubber Co. says rubber balloons for the toy and advertising trade are cheaper than they were 30 years ago.

Kooky Class Has Reunion

BALTIMORE (AP)—The class of 1954 at Forest Park High School scheduled, of all things, an "Eight and One-Half Year Reunion."

Mrs. Henry Mann, reunion committee secretary, said the event would be celebrated with its exact fractional designation because many previous attempts to get together had failed.

"We always were a kooky class," she said.

Eighteen tons of equipment, including glacier drills, ice axes, generators, freeze-dried food, oxygen equipment, tents and scientific gear, will be taken on the 1963 American expedition attempting to climb Mount Everest.

Passengers Take Care Of Bags

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — It's not unusual to see passengers at the Louisville and Nashville Railroad depot pushing carts similar to those used in grocery stores.

The railroad began experimenting with them when redcaps became scarce here, at Evansville and Montgomery, Ala.

The carts are smaller than those used in supermarkets but they'll handle at least a half dozen bags — and there's no charge for using them.

No Logic Nor Consistency In Sunday Closing Proposal

If you want a good chuckle, just started reading through Senate Bill No. 845 introduced last week by Senator Joseph Rattigan of neighboring Sonoma County and Senator Hugh Burns, president Protem of the Senate. (Both are Democrats.)

The only trouble is that before you are done it may give you cold chills.

According to the Legislative Counsel's digest, the measure would "make it a misdemeanor for any person to sell nonessential articles, as defined, on Sundays in specified areas of the State."

This is, of course, the Sunday closing law sponsored by the big chain department stores to eliminate Sunday competition from discount houses.

For instance: "any article of hardware, tools or paints (except hardware for emergency plumbing, heating, cooling and electrical repair and replacement parts) . . .

As we understand it, a fellow who got started with a do-it-yourself project and ran into a snag for lack of some small tool or other hardware item would be stymied. He would not only have to wait just until Monday morning; being a working stiff he possibly couldn't get off work in time to get to the store until the following Saturday. All this would be because he needs rest and recreation (not do-it-yourself projects) on weekends.

But wait, the law said "except for emergency . . ." In Michigan where they recently enacted a similar "model" Sunday closing law, you can buy a hammer, for instance, on Sunday, but you first must convince the clerk that it is an "emergency." We guess you could do that here, too.

Clothing is declared by law to be nonessential.

Furniture is nonessential.

Appliances are nonessential.

Motor cars are nonessential.

Kitchen utensils are nonessential.

Lumber and building materials are nonessential.

The availability of these articles for sale on Sunday, says this proposed law, is not essential to the health and welfare of the people of this state.

About halfway through the list we quit chuckling and are constrained to remark, "Baloney!"

One of the reasons cited in this proposed law to rationalize its alleged necessity is the need to protect against passage of bum checks while banks are closed and accounts cannot be checked.

Does this mean that next we will have a Saturday closing law for the same reason, since banks are also closed Saturdays?

Does this mean that stores next will have to remain closed on all of the many holidays observed by banks?

Or does it mean that banks will be required to remain open on Saturdays so as to protect against bum checks?

Obviously there is no logic nor consistency about this measure.

The answer to our questions above may come when banks, or other businesses rush to the state legislature to have some new competitive problem solved by the enactment of new restrictive laws.

As we have said in this space before, we don't think the public welfare is served by having businessmen seek to solve competitive problems with new restrictive legislation.

We hope our legislators, Senator McCarthy and Assemblyman Bagley, take a strong stand against S.B. 845.

Don't Monkey With Monkey Flowers

The Monkey Flower is blooming in Marin now and it is a sticky business, as anyone who has handled one knows.

It has a rather thick stem and flowers which range from red to yellow. Only its gluey qualities when touched detract from it. This adhesiveness is discouraging and has given it its other name, Sticky Monkey Plant.

Tunnel Shelter For Control Center Will Cost $50 Million To Build

By CHAPIN A. DAY

'CHIP' DAY

IT TAKES MONEY, lots of it, to build a bombproof headquarters for the defense of North America deep inside a granite mountain near Colorado Springs, Colo. To begin with, it cost $1,200,000 just to build the approach road from the state highway to a sheer face of granite halfway up the side of Cheyenne Mountain. Then the excavation began.

The first contract for excavation was awarded in May of 1961 for about six million dollars, but that edged up and up until a new contract for "modifications" was let for another $2½ million, bringing the total for the excavation alone to about $10 million.

That is only the start.

Just a week ago, a $7 million contract was let for construction of buildings inside the tunnels, which tower as high as 60½ feet above their floor. These buildings will be three stories high and will be mounted not on firm concrete foundations. Instead they will stand on huge springs, three feet high and made of steel three inches in diameter.

Purpose of the springs is to allow the earth to vibrate and sway beneath the buildings in case of a bombing attack, without disturbing the delicate instruments which will be housed in the buildings.

THE INSIDE complex of huge tunnels, which will contain these buildings, will be completely self-sufficient Even if air outside is radioactive, the air in the tunnels will be pure after being subjected to treatment.

There is adequate water in four huge underground reservoirs, a whole reservoir of fuel oil to operate power plants and electronic equipment, as well as provide electricity for lighting, cooking and other necessary uses.

The cost of the air conditioning and finishing of the buildings will be another $5 million, making the total to this point of about $22 million.

BUT THAT'S ONLY the start of the cost. It is estimated that the complete computers and other electronic equipment which will be installed in this three miles of tunnel will more than double the construction cost, something in the neighborhood of $50 million more.

Then the facility will be ready for its men. The command center is designed for approximately 400 men on duty at a time. Under war conditions it will easily handle the 1,200 men needed for three shift operation, sealed off from the world, living underground.

How long can they stay there?

That's classified information, but "as long as they need to," certainly six weeks or two months.

(NEXT: Who these men are and what they will do there.)

10 YEARS AGO

The much-discussed plan to improve San Rafael's First Street into a divided boulevard as an important entrance and exit for the city was "filed without action, until a future date" by the city council.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Muddy Thinking, Poor Writing

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Paul R. Haerle tells us that he was disturbed by reading that the California Federation of Young Democrats had passed a resolution recommending that the United States cease giving aid to South Viet Nam unless some reforms are initiated by that government.

He tells us that one's reaction to reading this resolution is one of shock, followed by bewilderment, followed by devout gratitude (that the Administration has not yet succumbed to this infantile thinking—although he implies that it might). Haerle suggests that extrapolating the philosophy of the CFYD to its conclusion would make the state of New York under a Republican governor unsafe. His solution to the problem of unwise CFYD philosophy is that Governor Brown pay less attention to the "weeds in the GOP garden" and more to "insects which are spawning in his own".

Like Haerle I also do not agree with the CFYD resolution; but my reaction to his letter is one of shock, followed by bewilderment at the series of partisan emotional non-sequiturs which form a ghastly combination of muddled thinking and poor writing.

Brown Proposal Raises Question

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Several days ago your newspaper ran a front page story on Gov. Brown's latest scheme for urban planning. The article stated that all the new agencies and commissions would have appointed rather than elected officials.

Now I have just one question to ask. Where are we going to find a panel of experts expert enough to watchdog the experts that Gov. Brown is wanting to appoint to run the lives of the citizens who are suddenly too stupid to elect said experts?

Reform Needed In So. Viet Nam

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

Reader Paul Haerle's letter of March 7 re, the Calif. Fed. of Young Democrats, adopting a series of resolutions, one of which "proposed that the U.S. cease giving South Viet Nam aid unless the government of that country initiated certain unspecified internal reforms" which causes him shock, etc., doesn't shock me at all.

I have been debating for some time as to whom to write re the "mess" we're in in South Viet Nam. We have close to 12,000 men over there, and casualties as of Feb. 4 amounted to 57.

The morale of our men who, though of the United States Army, are "representatives" of our State Dept. while there is zero. These men, who have such "high" morale, may take leaves, but to any place but to the U.S. mainland.

And get this: They cannot, repeat cannot, fly the American flag over their own compounds. It is only flown over the Ambassador's home and the Military Assistance Advisory Viet Nam's headquarters.

Also it is a tossup whom the Vietnamese hate the most, the communists or the U.S. backed president, who lives in a huge plush residence amidst their squalor.

I do not understand the "hanky-panky" of our State Dept., but I do understand plain English and the CFYD proposed resolution "urging withdrawal of U.S. aid to South Viet Nam unless that country enacts reforms" has my whole-hearted support; for that I'd switch to the Democratic ballot again.

Informed Office Seekers Needed

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I have just attended a workshop for School Trustee Candidates given by the office of Virgil Hollis, County Superintendent fo Schools. This was a most worthwhile experience with explanation and clarification of many problems facing school trustees. Hollis and Kupfer deserve congratulations and gratitude for these efforts. Marin County taxpayers, schools, and students will all benefit by having better informed school boards.

It would be worthwhile if similar workshops were given for other elective offices such as councilman, water district, and other special districts. We need not only an informed voter but also an informed office seeker.

We Need To Look Toward God

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

It seems to be true that the more "material" benefits we have in our prosperous nation, the dimmer becomes our vision concerning the world's miseries, both "material" and "spiritual." Perhaps we need to first look toward our own relation with God: then we can view with deeper appreciation his MANY blessings and have more compassion for those who need a part of our wealth. So many die daily, just for lack of a little food.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"Works like a charm—haven't had one person complain about high taxes!"

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

Lawyer Francis Wellman liked to tell of a cynical colleague who once sent identical telegrams to a dozen friends, all men of impeccable reputation and considerable wealth. The message was worded, "Suggest immediate flight; all is discovered." Within 12 hours, according to Wellman, all 12 had skipped the country.

What was everyday life like in Paris during the French Revolution—"The Days of the Terror?" Andre Castelot reveals in his engrossing book, "Paris 1738-1871," that "Chateaubriand's concierge enthused, 'Oh, those were the days! Every morning there went past my window little duchesses whose necks were white as snow when they were guillotined! Now it's all over. The people's pleasures have been taken from them!"

Redwood High School Grounds Lie Partly In Cities, Partly Outside

IT WAS SOMEONE in the sheriff's office who goofed in the candy caper at Redwood High School last week.

This is the case where watchman James B. Wade late Wednesday night spotted two large (one 241 pounds, the ther 200) boys about to break into the candy dispensary in the new Covered Eating Area, a pavilion-like structure.

Wade reported to Patrolman James D. Neubert of Larkspur police, whom he found patroling Doherty Drive. Neubert questioned the pupils and took them to Larkspur police station.

The boys, caught with dime store tools and an empty suitcase, said they had looted the dispensary of candy and soft drinks March 2 and had returned for more.

It was here that the sheriff's office became involved. Neubert was sure of one thing—that the dispensary or canteen was not within Larkspur jurisdiction on the school grounds, an area of divided county, Larkspur and Corte Madera jurisdiction.

Neubert first called Corte Madera police, who said, "Not our jurisdiction. Call the sheriff's office." The sheriff's office referred Neubert back to Corte Madera — which then sent Patrolman Charles E. Newman. He got the boys at the Larkspur station and took them to the Corte Madera station. After questioning by Sgt. David L. McIntosh they were booked at Juvenile Hall.

PUZZLED OVER this confusion which has the three peace bodies frustrated, I visited the Tamalpais Union High School District office Friday and viewed a map of Redwood High grounds.

The map shows the eating area and academic building (classrooms) are in county jurisdiction.

The area containing the district office building and gymnasium is in Corte Madera. The area containing the corporation yard is in Larkspur.

Questioning develops that Larkspur and Corte Madera police both wish the whole school was in one municipality's jurisdiction. Both departments say they patrol the grounds regularly — Chief Howard Clark of Larkspur reports precisely his men patrol the corporation yard and the administration building (district office).

Sheriff Lou Mountanos advises me he knows office has jurisdiction over the eating area and classrooms and says his men do patrol this area. In addition Inspector Harvey Teague, the sheriff's juvenile officer, handles cases of pupil misbehavior.

THE HIGH SCHOOL people wish they were within one jurisdiction—but have been holding off from annexing everything to one municipality for fear of displeasing residents of the area from which they would withdraw.

Corte Madera town fathers have expressed a desire to have the whole grounds in their jurisdiction — so they could claim a high school.

Larkspur officials have said they don't mind the whole thing going to Corte Madera—though it is closer to Larkspur. Meanwhile whichever police department is called responds to any emergency call.

Last May 21 Tam District trustees authorized Supt. Chester G. Carlisle to study the feasibility of annexing to one municipality or the other. The press of other activities has kept the matter from coming up again, says an aide. Meanwhile cops wonder regarding each new rumble, "Whose case is this?"

Real Issue In A-Test Ban Is Not Question Of On-Sight Inspection

SENATOR DODD HAS said that "there is one supreme question which the Senate must ask about any test ban treaty: does it provide reasonable protection against any cheating by the Soviets?" This is an important question, and the hearings now being held before the Joint Atomic Energy Committee are focused on it. But it is not the supreme question.

The supreme question is whether the U.S.A. and the U.S.S.R. can agree not to do any more testing in the hope of changing the existing balance of power in nuclear weapons. This would mean, it is agreed on both sides, an acceptance of the fact that while both sides are now capable of inflicting devastating damage, the American arsenal is bigger and more versatile than the Soviet's. The purpose of the treaty would be to slow the refinement of the nuclear art, refraining from further testing in the hope of achieving an absolute superiority.

THE HOPE OF achieving an absolute superiority exists among some scientists and some military men in both countries. It does not exist by any means among all scientists or all military men. If either country could, for example, achieve a perfectly effective anti-missile missile, it would thereby wipe out the menace of the other side's whole nuclear armament. Or if either side could make a bomb so powerful that it could destroy the whole power of the other to retaliate, it would have absolute superiority.

Such hopes of absolute superiority, which neither side will avow publicly, explain why the public argument against the proposed treaty is what it is — the Americans talking about cheating and the Russians talking about espionage.

THE TRUTH IS that the Russians do not really mean that two or three on-site inspections are all right while seven or eight would be espionage, which would undermine the security of the Soviet Union. What the Russians mean is that if they offer fewer inspections than Mr. Kennedy thinks he can accept and still get the treaty ratified, they will have proved that they want to stop testing, and they will still be able to test. Beside the ingrained Russian reluctance to open their country, there is the much more matter-of-fact feeling that, if they test, they may achieve absolute superiority. On our side, the truth is that Senator Dodd and his mentor, Dr. Teller, are not primarily concerned with cheating. Dr. Teller, at least, if I have read his public statements correctly, is primarily concerned with avoiding any treaty which will slow down the development of nuclear weapons. The most vocal critics at the moment in this country may say they want a fool-proof treaty. What they really want is not to stop testing.

FOR MYSELF, I do not take the view that they are necessarily wrong. If they would quit talking as if they had some kind of superior patriotism, the perfectly arguable issue which is not yet fully resolved could be discussed. I think that the real issue should be brought up to the surface and that we should have a full debate on whether, for the sake of peace and of our own national interests, it is better to slow down nuclear development by banning tests or to stimulate development by continuing the tests.

Careful Girl Avoids Pinches In Italy Or At Bridge Table

One of the hazards of traveling in Italy, the girls tell me, is that you get pinched.

An even worse hazard is that perhaps nobody will take the trouble to pinch you. If this all seems much too difficult, don't despair. You can stay right at home and get pinched at the bridge table.

Opening lead — ♡ 2

South, a highly pinchable blonde, acquitted herself nobly in the bidding. North's cue-bid of three hearts meant: "Partner, bid three notrump if you can stop the hearts."

NO QUESTIONS

South asked no questions; she bid three notrump and waited for the opening lead.

West naturally opened the deuce of hearts, and South discarded a spade from dummy as East won the first trick with the ace of hearts. Our heroine smiled winsomely as she looked at dummy's magnificent diamonds.

The sun was shining, and everything was going to be oh so hunkydory.

SWITCH TO CLUBS

East switched to the king of clubs, and South won with the ace. And now our blonde beauty proceeded to run off dummy's diamonds.

South discarded a low club on the third diamond, a low spade on the fourth diamond, and the jack of hearts, on the fifth diamond. Then the pinch began.

What was she to throw on the sixth diamond? The ten of spades was the logical candidate. But then came the seventh diamond, and poor South felt the pinch once more.

HOPELESS

The situation was hopeless. By this time the opponents had thrown away all of their hearts and were sure to defeat the contract with spades and clubs.

There were several ways to make the contract, of course. The easiest was to cash the king of hearts before starting the diamonds.

The moral is too clear to need repetition, and if any of you girls think that seven lovely diamonds are worth a pinch or two you can't say that you got any encouragement from this column.

Today is Thursday, March 14, the 73rd day of 1963 with 292 to follow.

The moon is approaching its last quarter. The morning star is Venus. The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1923, President Warren G. Harding became the first chief executive to file an income tax.

In 1933, Congress approved a measure authorizing the sale of 3.2 beer.

In 1947, military and naval bases in the Philippine Islands were leased to the United States for 99 years.

A thought for the day—Albert Einstein said: "As long as there are sovereign nations possessing great power, war is inevitable."

No. 284 Mar. 7, 14, 21, 28, 1963

NOTICE INVITING SEALED PROPOSALS OR BIDS

Pursuant to the Municipal Improvement Act of 1913, as amended, the Board of Supervisors of the County of Marin, invites sealed proposals or bids for the grading and construction of street, drainage and utility improvements for MARINERO RESIDENCE NO. 1, UNIT 2 as more particularly described in Resolution of Intention No. 7392B adopted by said Board on November 13th, 1962 which resolution is on file in the office of the County Clerk and to which reference is hereby expressly made for a more particular description of the work to be done.

All of said work is to be done at the places and in the particular locations, of the forms, sizes and dimensions and of the materials, and to the lines and grades and at the elevation as shown and delineated upon the plans, profiles and specifications made therefor and preliminary approved by said Board on November 13, 1962.

Payments will be made in cash by said County to the Contractor on itemized estimates duly certified and approved by the Engineer of Work, based on labor and materials incorporated into said work during the preceding month by the Contractor. However, notice is given that the cost and expense of said work and improvements is chargeable upon said above described Improvement District and that payment will be made only from assessments levied upon property in said District pursuant to Municipal Improvement Act of 1913 and the proceeds of the sale of bonds secured by unpaid assessments pursuant to said Act and the Improvement Act of 1911, and further that if cash collections are insufficient to meet monthly estimates, there will be a delay in making such payments until money is received from the sale of the bonds issued upon the unpaid assessments. County shall retain ten percent (10%) of each such estimates, and the accumulation of said amounts so retained from said progressive payments will be paid to said Contractor thirty-five (35) days after the completion and acceptance of said work by said Engineer and said County.

Notice is hereby given that on November 13th, 1962 the Board of Supervisors adopted a resolution determining the general prevailing rate of per diem wages to be paid to the various craftsmen and laborers required to construct said improvements, a copy of which wage scale is contained in and made a part of the specifications for said work, to which reference is hereby made for further particulars.

All proposals or bids shall be accompanied by a cashier's or certified check payable to the order of the County, amounting to ten per cent (10%) of the bid, or by a bond in said amount and payable to said County signed by the bidder and a corporate surety, or by the bidder and two sureties who shall justify before any officer competent to administer on oath, in double said amount and over and above all statutory exemptions. Said check shall be forfeited or said bond shall become payable to said County in case the bidder depositing the same does not, within fifteen (15) days after written notice that the contract has been awarded to him, enter into a contract with the County.

Contractor shall furnish to County a faithful performance bond and labor and material bond as required in said specifications.

Said sealed proposals shall be delivered to the County Clerk of said County on or before 4:00 o'clock P.M. of the day of March 26, 1963, at the regular meeting place of said Board, Supervisors' Room, Administration Building, Civic Center, San Rafael, California, said time being at least fifteen days from the time of publication of this notice. Bids will be publicly opened, examined and declared on said day and hour. The County reserves the right to reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities or irregularities in a bid, and further reserves the right to make its award at any time within thirty (30) days of the bid opening and no bidder may withdraw his bid after the date set for the opening thereof for thirty (30) days thereafter.

A copy of the plans and specifications may be obtained from KENNETH FROST ASSOCIATES, 1610 Tiburon Blvd., Tiburon, California upon payment therefor of $10.00 refundable, if plans and specifications are returned in good condition.

High School Play Cast Is Announced

The cast for Redwood High School's spring play, "Out of the Frying Pan," a comedy by Francis Swann, has been announced by Joseph Wadlington, drama instructor.

The play concerns six young people who are trying to break into the theater and live in an apartment directly above a producer. Their various devices to persuade the producer into getting them into a play provide for an entertaining evening.

There are more symphony orchestras in the United States today than in all of the western European countries combined.

High School Bands To Be On KTIM Show

Six Marin County high school bands which participated in last month's High School Band Festival at Terra Linda High, will be heard on radio KTIM next week, manager Hugh Turner announced today.

The performances of the bands, recorded by Hugo Rinaldi, director of music for San Rafael schools, will be heard at 7:10 a.m. beginning Monday. San Rafael High will be featured Monday; Redwood, Tuesday; Novato, Wednesday; Tamalpais, Thursday; Sir Francis Drake, Friday, and Terra Linda, Saturday.

Step UP to a bigger and better model

This is an Ames Ford Exclusive--a proven way to buy the model You'd like to have, at the price of the "economy special" you always thought was all you could afford to buy.

It's just this simple: Come in, look at a Falcon equipped to your liking, check the official price label on the window--and then--select a Fairlane with matching equipment. Your price for the Fairlane will be exactly the price of the Falcon.

Want a Galaxie instead? Find a Fairlane in our huge stock with the right equipment and pay only the Fairlane price for your Galaxie. How about a new Thunderbird? Too expensive? Not when you can buy one for the price of a Galaxie 500XL!

Terms and trade-ins? Of course--the typically way-out liberal Ames Ford brand of "wheeling and dealing." We dare the skeptic to find a gimmick in this exclusive merchandising idea!

MARIN PROP WASH

By ELEANOR FREEMAN

Selecting A Name For Your Craft Can Be Quite A Terrific Challenge

Selecting a name for your fifth child, your pet hamster or tom cat is no pleasure. You make the choice with heads-or-tails disinterest. Picking out that name for your boat, however, is a "twittering" activity. A terrific challenge. You feel creative. You want an audience. And when the new name is put on the boat's transom or bow—you'll have it.

Are you aiming at sophistication? Want to be daredevilish? Perhaps you're the profound type—Or how about a wildly funny moniker? No? Well, take your time. Give it the truly disciplined study with the honest intellectual involvement it deserves.

First, consider alliterations. They can be fresh and catchy: Fading Filly, Father's Folly, Willful Wench, Tired and Timid, are samples.

IF YOU are a fellow who drinks milk with graham crackers, you will never label your craft Four-Fifths, Dry Martini, or Purple Cow. But some folks do. And even literary theft is not unheard of. Recently spotted in Marin was a boat named The Sound and the Fury — a little El Toro.

The man with the impeccably organized mind usually takes his own name and that of his wife, coming up with something like, Liz-Sock. And as one should easily see, this is a constricted use of Elizabeth and Socrates.

Now, the playboy boater who tabs his craft with one of the following: Cuddles, Irresistable, Honey-Cake or Lapful, does not have his mind 100 per cent on boating.

AND LET'S not overlook the obviously narcissusistically-oriented boater who longs to see his name in print. The telephone directory is not enough. So in foot-high letters, his own name goes on the transom; Elwood Tittlejot.

Many inspiring names have been seen in our Marin Marinas, such as: Going; Going! GONE!, Bolts-and-Nuts, Splutterpuss, Little Wop and Mayflower. The one that made the most smashing statement was MAMA'S MINK. Eecond place went to Rumpelstiltskin.

Even on very small boats, some owners prefer to christen their craft. "I name thee, The Renegade," intones a new owner with the solemnity of conferring knighthood. But if he whacks the bow with a coke, and saves the champagne for a libation—the Coast Guard will be "stuffy."

THAT INCORPORATED club of water skiers, formerly the Golden Gate Water Skiers of Marin, is changing its name. Now, tentatively named Water Skiers of Marin, they hope to keep this title, pending an okay from Secretary of State. Total membership is 25. This figure, when considered with the fact that most members have several in the family, makes for large get-togethers.

Social and business activities are held in the American Legion Hall, Larkspur. Skiing activities are carried on mostly at Lake Berryessa, where the club has reserved a plot of state land.

Members have gradually installed facilities and improvements, including camp and trailer sites. Bob Miller, publicity, reports that they also have a small club within this club. These hardy members are known as The Ice Cubes. They function once a year only. On New Year's Day they go skiing. Goose pimples? Well, they won't admit it. "Neither snow, nor rain, nor sleet nor gloom of night—"

QUESTION: I would like to explore the Tomales Bay area with my boat which I trail. What's the scoop?

Marv K., Tiburon

ANSWER: This is an especially pleasant time to try this area. Marvin Franke and his partner, Hal Evans, of Marshall Boat Works on Highway 1, are on deep water. A hoist is used to put your boat in and out. Boat, inboard and outboard repairs are handled: and mooring spaces are rented. You'll find it next to Nick's Cove Restaurant. It has camp facilities and a good launching ramp. Across the Bay to the southwest, is Tomales Bay State Park. Drive there or approach by boat. There are also sandy beaches for the camper, on rancher property. These owners have been remarkably liberal, and will probably remain that way if campers respect the privilege enough to leave their camp sites clean.

It is hazardous for the small boater to leave the bay for the ocean. The 12 miles length of Tomales Bay should offer sufficient pleasure. Average width is ¾ miles across. There are good eating places along the shore. Ski, swim, explore, fish or just explore. It's a nice place.

TROPHY WINNERS—These boys and girls received trophies from the Red Cross for swimming the most laps in the Drake pool during the winter months. Two Marin Men In All-Star Soccer Tilt

The San Francisco Soccer Football League will hold its first international game of the 1962-63 season when a team from Denmark meets San Francisco United in Balboa Stadium Sunday at 2:30 p.m.

Hans Martinussen and Norbert Krier of the Real Marin soccer team will play on the East Bay League All-Stars team in a preliminary game at 11 a.m. against the San Francisco Third Division All-Stars.

Warriors Out Of Playoffs

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — San Francisco's Warriors, with no chance to go up or down, play out their National Basketball Assn. home season today and tomorrow against the St. Louis Hawks.

Detroit finished off the Warriors' slim playoff hopes by cinching third place in the NBA's Western Division yesterday with a 112-89 victory over New York.

The Warriors and Hawks play in San Francisco tonight at 8 o'clock, then travel to Oakland Auditorium tomorrow. San Francisco finishes its season Saturday in Los Angeles.

San Francisco has won only two of 10 meetings against the Hawks, second placers in the Western Division.

Friendly Fred Wins

SAN MATEO (AP)— Friendly Fred, $9.60, came from third at the head of the stretch and won the Bay Meadows feature yesterday.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS
IJ Fish and Game Writer

You Need Lots Of Patience When You Are After The Big Stripers

STEVENS

According to an old maxim, "Patience is a virtue that few possess." Maybe so, but some of us are convinced that patience is a trait that all fishermen must possess — especially when fishing for stripers in our local waters, with bullheads.

Recently a somewhat irritated man reported that he and a pal had fished all day Monday in the upper San Pablo Bay and hadn't caught a single fish on bullheads, but did get a flock of undersized bass on sardines. "Where did they fish?" I asked, and got this: "Where? All over! We tried a dozen different spots—they were all the same!"

I hope my caller (who neglected to leave his name) reads the following. Frank Quan reported three men in one of the China Camp boats over the weekend unloaded limit catches of bass that ran from 15 to 24 pounds. The trio used bullheads and patience. They sat back and waited for the bass to happen along.

JIM BAGGET has been going out of Frank Joseph's Rodeo Resort for four or five weekend trips in succession. As always, Jim and a friend came back to port with a mess of beautiful bass this past weekend. Fish ran from 10 to 19 pounds.

The trio at China Camp and Bagget and his friend have one thing in common: They rig up, cast out and wait. Sometimes they must wait most of the day (or at least for both turns of the tide); sometimes a school of fish comes along within an hour. But these expert bullhead anglers, like all successful fishermen, have the necessary patience it takes to sit without any action for a long time, knowing that before they are through, one, two or a school of large fish will pass that way. Then, with the real light tackle they are using, they earn the reward of patience. Just one of those fish makes a completely successful fishing trip for the true sportsman.

FISHING WAS very good over the weekend and on Monday and Tuesday off China Camp as well as farther upstream. Trolling and drift fishing perked up considerably in the lower bay. Audrey Payne of the San Lorenzo Bait Shop called to report Jack Gobel and Boyd Hunt, using White Bugeyes near Buoy 15 off the Marina, took a nice bass each. Jack's weighed 16 pounds and Boyd's went 12 pounds. Joe Markette, also of San Lorenzo came in with a nice fresh eight-pounder taken near the Radar Screen.

"Manny" of the Hayward Fisheries reported some fast and furious fishing out of Monterey . . . Not too many lings but sackfuls of rockfish were witnessed by Manny from aboard the good ships from Chris's place at Monterey.

SALMON trolling was blown out of business on Monday — boats couldn't get to Duxbury where the fishing had been hot.

Sad to relate is the lowdown on back-country fishing. I checked with Mrs. Louis Patrick and was told eight boats out on Saturday and seven boats on Sunday—"not one bass was brought in." You can depend upon that report being on the level.

The time is almost due for the annual runs of fish in the back country waters but apparently it hasn't happened yet.
